

PGA Golf Professional Hall of Fame

At the inaugural ceremony for the PGA Golf Professional Hall of Fame in 2005, Mickey Powell (left) was among the PGA Past Presidents inducted at the PGA Historical Center. Roger Warren (right), PGA President at that time has since been inducted into the Hall of Fame.

The PGA Golf Professional Hall of Fame originated in 1940 at the suggestion of famed sportswriter Grantland Rice. Most of the original inductees were later enshrined at the PGA World Golf Hall of Fame in Pinehurst, N.C.

In 1993, The PGA of America ceased PGA World Golf Hall of Fame operations in Pinehurst and subsequently relocated to the World Golf Hall of Fame in St. Augustine, Fla. While all of the Pinehurst-enshrined members were transferred to the new World Golf Hall of Fame, there were some members of the PGA Hall of Fame who were not recognized at the new facility at the World Golf Village.

In 2003, The PGA opened the PGA Historical Center at PGA Village in Port St. Lucie, Fla., paving the way for the first home for the PGA Golf Professional Hall of Fame. It is the highest honor that The PGA of America can bestow upon its membership. The inaugural ceremony was conducted Sept. 8, 2005, at the PGA Historical Center.

With the establishment of this Hall of Fame, the Association recognizes all PGA members who have made significant and lasting contributions to the building of The PGA of America and the game of golf.

The next class in the PGA Golf Professional Hall of Fame will be inducted in the spring of 2009.
