Method of Play Seventy-two holes of stroke play, four rounds of 18 holes. Following the first 36 holes of play, the field of 156 players will be reduced to the low 70 scorers and ties. Those players will advance to complete the final two rounds. In the event of a tie for first place after 72 holes, there will be a three-hole aggregate score playoff on holes 10, 17 and 18. If a tie still remains, there will be a hole-by-hole playoff beginning on No. 18, and, if necessary, on to holes 10, 17 and 18 repeated until a winner is determined.

Rules and Regulations The Rules of Golf, which govern play, are determined by the United States Golf Association and applied by the PGA of America Board of Directors. The PGA Championship is subject to the overall supervision of the PGA of America Board of Directors.

Eligibility The PGA of America has approved the following list of players eligible to compete in the 97th PGA Championship:

- All former PGA Champions
- Winners of the last five Masters (2011-2015)
- Winners of the last five U.S. Opens (2011-2015)
- Winners of the last five Open Championships (2011-2015)
- The 2015 Senior PGA Champion
- The 15 low scorers and ties in the 2014 PGA Championship
- The 20 low scorers in the 2015 PGA Professional National Championship
- The 70 leaders from the PGA Championship Points list from the 2014 World Golf Championships-Bridgestone Invitational through the 2015 Quicken Loans National ending August 2, 2015

- Members of the 2014 United States and European Ryder Cup Teams providing they remain within the Top 100 of the World Golf Rankings as of July 17, 2015
- · Winners of tournaments co-sponsored or approved by the PGA Tour from the 2014 PGA Championship to the 2015 PGA Championship (does not include pro-am and team competitions)
- Vacancies will be filled by the first available player from the list of alternates (those below 70th place in the PGA Championship Points list from the 2014 World Golf Championships-Bridgestone Invitational through the 2015 Quicken Loans National, ending August 2, 2015
- In addition, the PGA of America reserves the right to invite additional players not included in the categories listed above. The total field will be a maximum of 156 players.

THE WANAMAKER TROPHY

New York City department store magnate Rodman Wanamaker, who was instrumental in coordinating a 1916 luncheon that evolved into the founding of the PGA of America, offered to provide the new Association with cash prizes and a trophy for the inaugural PGA Championship. Wanamaker proposed that the trophy would be similar to the News of the World Award given to the winner of the PGA Championship of Great Britain.

Wanamaker's generosity resulted in $2,500 for the first PGA Championship, conducted at match play at Siwanoy Country Club in Bronxville, N.Y., Oct. 9-14, 1916.

In addition, a silver cup and gold medal were presented to the winner, as well as a silver medal for the runner-up, and bronze medals for the winners of the qualifying rounds.

The Wanamaker Trophy continues to serve as the perpetual honor prize for the PGA Champion. The trophy weighs 27 pounds, is 28 inches high, 10½ inches in diameter and measures 27 inches from handle to handle. In 1928, Leo Diegel snapped the fouryear winning streak of Walter Hagen, defeating "The Haig" by a 2-and-1 margin in the quarterfinals at Five Farms Country Club in Baltimore. Diegel went onto win the Championship, a truly stunning sports story at that time. Even more shocking was the fact that the Wanamaker Trophy was missing.

When PGA officials asked Hagen what had happened to the Trophy since its presentation a year earlier at Cedar Crest Country Club in Dallas, the five-time PGA Champion declared it was irrevocably lost. Hagen said that he had entrusted the trophy to a taxi driver to take the precious cargo to his hotel. It never arrived.

In 1930, the Wanamaker Trophy was found by accident by a porter in Detroit cleaning the cellar of L.A. Young & Company, the firm that manufactured clubs bearing Hagen's name. The trophy was safe in an unmarked case, and today is on display for all golf enthusiasts to view at the PGA Museum of Golf in Port St. Lucie, Fla.

PGA Champion Benefits

- The top 30 scorers and ties are exempt from local qualifying (but not Sectional) for the following year's U.S. Open.
- The Players Championship Five-year exemption

WHISTLING STRAITS, KOHLER, WISCONSIN

One of America's greatest championship courses, the Straits Course at Whistling Straits is one of golf's recognized homes to dramatic major championships. It hosted the 2004 and 2010 PGA Championship, both decided by playoffs, and the 2007 U.S. Senior Open. In 2020, Whistling Straits will be the site of the 43rd Ryder Cup.

Founded in 1998, Whistling Straits emulates the great old seaside links courses of the British Isles, invoking an image of the game born more than 400 years ago. The Straits was ranked No. 4 in Golfweek's 2014 Best Resort Courses and No. 16 in Golf Digest's 2013-14 roster of America's 100 Greatest Golf Courses.

Open, rugged and windswept terrain defines the Straits, sculpted along two miles of Lake Michigan shoreline. Borrowing influences from Irish links courses, the Straits features fescue fairways and massive sand dune bunkers.

Whistling Straits is perched on two miles of uninterrupted shoreline on Lake Michigan. What once was farmland and later Camp Haven – a 1950s anti-aircraft training facility for the U.S. Army – is now one of the world's most spectacular golf venues.

The Kohler Company acquired Whistling Straits on May 26, 1995. The majority of the land for the site was acquired from the Wisconsin Electric Power Company (WEPCO), which had originally intended to use the location for a nuclear power plant. Whistling Straits' location is as unique in the Wisconsin landscape as its own golf dimensions. It lies approximately six miles north of Sheboygan, near the village of Haven in the Township of Mosel.

Having enlisted legendary golf course architect Pete Dye to build the course, Herbert V. Kohler Jr. walked the site during its early construction. It was during that walk on a particularly gusty day that Kohler, the chairman of the board and president of Kohler Company, arrived at a name for the course. A north-to-south gale was whistling along the bluffs, while white caps broke on the rocky shoreline (straits) of Lake Michigan.

In building Whistling Straits, Dye followed his employer's wishes to make the course reflect the origins of the game of golf. Under Dye's direction, more than a million tons of cubic earth were moved. In addition, 13,126 truckloads of sand (approximately 80,000 cubic yards) were transported to the site.

Today, there are more than 1,000 bunkers. Eight holes hug the shoreline of Lake Michigan, while a view of the lake is visible from all 18 holes. The average green at Whistling Straits measures 7,500 square feet, and the average teeing space on each hole is approximately 6,000 square feet.

All the accoutrements of the ancient game are on display at Whistling Straits: bluffs and massive sand dunes, stone bridges, natural fescue fairways, 14 water hazards and significant elevation change – the 15th hole is approximately 80 feet above sea level.

A flock of more than 40 Scottish Blackface sheep wander the property as freely as they would on a country course in Great Britain. The sheep are kept on site during the golf season and have a home at an offsite farm during the winter.

Nature's constant contribution to Whistling Straits – the wind – provides the true challenge of mastering the course. During the 97th PGA Championship, the world's premier players will face a predominant southwest wind that will gust between 10 and 30 miles per hour.

The PGA of America's presence at Whistling Straits dates back to 1999, when the Straits hosted its first event, the PGA Professional National Championship. Whistling Straits' ability to challenge the world's greatest players has ensured its rightful perch among the world's most unique courses.

Special Championship Moments at Whistling Straits:

- In 2004, Vijay Singh defeated Chris DiMarco and Justin Leonard in a three-hole aggregate score playoff to win his second PGA Championship
- In 2010, Martin Kaymer defeated Bubba Watson in a three-hole aggregate score playoff to win the PGA Championship, his first major triumph.

Championship Preparation

Whistling Straits underwent modifications following the 2004 PGA Championship and 2007 U.S. Senior Open, which focused on spectator access areas. This resulted in widening the walk areas through the dunes and allowing ample room for spectators to enjoy the vistas of Lake Michigan.

In addition, the bunkers behind the No. 3 green were modified; an additional deep pot bunker to the front center of the No. 6 green was added; and the fairway of the 18th hole was extended down the left side of the creek.

Since 2010, new tees were added on Holes No. 5, 14 and 18, while the back tee on Hole No. 11 was removed and the hole shortened. Overall, the course is six yards shorter than it was in 2010.

In a Class of Their Own

Only 44 golf facilities have been included in Golf Digest's list of "America's 200 Toughest Golf Courses" since the list's inception in 1966. The roster, which was changed to "America's Greatest 100 Courses" in 1975, features the following future PGA Championship sites, which are among the elite 44 facilities:

2016 Baltusrol Golf Club, Springfield, N.J. 2018 Bellerive Country Club, St. Louis, Mo.

An Unmatched Field

The 95th PGA Championship field that assembled at Oak Hill Country Club near Rochester, New York, was among the top three rated majors since the origin of the Official World Golf Rankings in 1986. The Championship featured 99 of the top 100 world-ranked players, matching the record set in 2012 at The Ocean Course in Kiawah Island, South Carolina. The 2002 PGA Championship, with 98 of the top 100, is the all-time points leader for majors with all of the Top 96 that year intact. Since 1994, the PGA Championship has featured the most Top 100 ranked players in its field, and has recorded nine of the top 10 point events (as calculated by the Official World Golf Rankings) in major championship history. The 2013 Open Championship is ranked No. 10.

The 2014 Championship field featured 71 players representing a PGA Championship and U.S. major record 26 countries. The 2010 and '12 Championships each had a PGA and U.S. major record 73 international players.

Worldwide Media Coverage

The PGA Championship is a global television event. In 2014, there were more than 200 countries/territories, with a potential household reach of more than a half-billion, that received live or delayed coverage of the 96th PGA Championship.

At Valhalla, there were more than 1,000 print and electronic media representatives covering the major championship.

THE PGA CHAMPIONSHIP - EVOLUTION OF A MAJOR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Rodman Wanamaker

Since its inception in 1916, the PGA Championship has evolved into one of the world's premier sporting events. Each summer, one of the nation's leading golf facilities hosts golf's best professionals, as they compete for the Wanamaker Trophy and a major championship title.

The PGA Championship was born in the mind of department store owner Rodman Wanamaker, who saw the merchandising possibilities in a professional golfers' organization. Wanamaker invited some prominent golfers and other leading industry representatives to a luncheon at the Taplow Club in his New York City store. On Jan. 17, 1916, a group of 35 individuals, including the legendary Walter Hagen, convened for an exploratory meeting, which ultimately led to the formation of the PGA of America on April 10, 1916.

Wanamaker offered to put up $2,500 and various trophies and medals as part of the prize fund for the inaugural PGA Championship. The organizers agreed that the PGA Championship should be conducted similar to the PGA Championship of Great Britain, a 36-hole elimination matchplay tournament.

The first PGA Championship was played in October 1916. British-born professional Jim Barnes and Jock Hutchison, a native of St. Andrews, Scotland, played in the final match, with Barnes winning, 1-up.

The PGA Championship was postponed for two years because of World War I. It was resumed in 1919, at Engineers Country Club in Roslyn, N.Y. Barnes was again the Champion, turning back Fred McLeod, 6 and 5. The following year, Hutchison avenged his defeat, becoming the last internationally born winner for a decade, when he defeated Douglas Edgar, 1-up.

With the "Roaring Twenties" in full stride, the next nine PGA Championships were won by three different players: Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Leo Diegel.

Hagen won five PGA Championships, making the finals six times and winning four consecutive Championships from 1924-1927. During the streak, "The Haig" won 22 consecutive matches before Leo Diegel captured the title in 1928.

From Hagen to Sarazen

With his victory in 1922, Sarazen became the youngest PGA Champion (age 20). Sarazen successfully defended his title by defeating Hagen on the 38th hole in the Championship's first extra-hole finale. Nicknamed "The Squire," Sarazen owns one of the most remarkable records in PGA Championship history. He qualified for match play 28 times, participated in 82 matches and had 57 victories and 25 defeats. Not only was he the youngest Champion, he became the oldest participant (70) when he played in the 1972 PGA Championship.

Denny Shute won consecutive PGA Championships in 1936-37, a feat that was unmatched until Tiger Woods in 2000.

Lord Byron and Hogan Dominate

Five-time PGA Champion Walter Hagen

Byron Nelson won the 1940 PGA Championship, 1-up, over Sam Snead. With the outbreak of World War II, the match-play field in 1942 was reduced to 32 players. Even with the change, Snead called his victory that year his biggest thrill in golf.

The PGA Championship was cancelled in 1943 because of the war. From 1945-51, Nelson, Snead and Ben Hogan combined to win the PGA Championship five times. Nelson's triumph in 1945 was part of his record-setting 11 consecutive tournament victories, one of sport's most remarkable winning streaks.

From Match Play to Stroke Play

With Lionel Hebert's 3-and-1 victory over Dow Finsterwald in 1957, a chapter in PGA Championship history was closed. The stroke-play era began in 1958 before a televised audience of millions, with Finsterwald's final-round 67 earning him the PGA Championship at Llanerch Country Club in Havertown, Pa.

Jack's Victories, Arnie's Close Calls

Jack Nicklaus won the first of his five PGA Championships in 1963, at Dallas Athletic Club, overcoming 100-degree heat and third-round leader Bruce Crampton.

In 1964, Bobby Nichols became the first wire-to-wire winner in the Championship's medal-play history. Nichols' winning total of 271 remained a Championship record until 1994.

Arnold Palmer also set a record by becoming the first player to post four rounds in the 60s in a major Championship. However, this set a disappointing pattern for Palmer. Along with his runner-up finish in 1964, he finished second in 1968 and 1970. Palmer along with Tom Watson, are considered by most golf historians as the best players never to have won a PGA Championship.

In 1968, Julius Boros, then 48, survived sweltering Texas heat and a last-hole charge by Palmer to become the oldest Champion, at Pecan Valley Country Club in San Antonio.

Nicklaus Leaves his Mark

With his victory in February 1971, at PGA National Golf Club (now BallenIsles Country Club) in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., Nicklaus became the first professional to win the modern Grand Slam of golf for a second time. It also was the start of a 13-year run in which Nicklaus would win four PGA Championships, finish runner-up twice and place nine times in the top four.

Nicklaus' 1973 Championship victory gave him 14 major Championships, surpassing Bobby Jones' mark set 43 years earlier. Nicklaus tied Hagen for the most PGA Championships in 1980, winning his fifth crown at Oak Hill Country Club by a record seven-stroke margin.

Nicklaus competed in 37 PGA Championships, finishing a record 14 times in the top five, while also posting the best record in the stroke-play portion of the PGA Championship.

After the 1976 PGA Championship, PGA officials abandoned the 18-hole playoff format to become the first major Championship to implement a sudden-death playoff. It was quickly put to the test, with the next three Championships decided in extra holes.

A New Generation of Champions

In 1986, Bob Tway became the first player in modern history to win the PGA Championship with a birdie on the 72nd hole, when he made a shot from a green side

In 1991, rookie John Daly completed a storybook finish at Crooked Stick Golf Club in Carmel, Ind. Without the benefit of a practice round, Daly, the ninth alternate, didn't get into the Championship until Nick Price withdrew the night before. Daly went on to finish with a 276 total, in a performance that ranks as one of golf's greatest surprise triumphs.

Price returned in 1992 to win at Bellerive Country Club and carried his 1990s dominance with a resounding second PGA Championship title in 1994 at Southern Hills Country Club.

Valhalla Golf Club's first experience in hosting a major championship came in 1996, and Mark Brooks birdied the 18th hole twice within 45 minutes to win a playoff over Kentuckian Kenny Perry.

In 1997, Davis Love III turned in a memorable performance at Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y., finishing with an 11-under-par 269, for the lowest winning total in any major Championship held at the legendary course. Vijay Singh, a native of Fiji, earned his first major title in 1998 at Sahalee Country Club in Redmond, Wash.

Tiger Woods won the PGA Championship four times between 1999 and 2007.

In 1999, 23-year-old Tiger Woods became the fifth youngest winner in PGA Championship history, when he outlasted Spain's 19-yearold Sergio Garcia by one stroke at Medinah (Ill.) Country Club.

Woods, already a winner of the U.S. Open and Open Championship during the summer, made the PGA Championship's return to Valhalla Golf Club in 2000 one of the most thrilling climaxes in major Championship history. In the process, Woods became the first back-to-back PGA Champion since Denny Shute in 1936-37.

In 2005, at steamy Baltusrol Golf Club, Phil Mickelson hit a flop shot from the deep rough on the 18th hole to within two feet and then tapped in for the winning birdie.

Woods marked his return to Medinah Country Club in grand style in 2006, by capturing his third PGA Championship. He successfully defended in 2007 at Southern Hills Country Club, winning a fourth Championship during the hottest recorded week of weather in PGA Championship history.

Global Champions, Rising New Stars

Ireland's Padraig Harrington snapped a 78-year jinx in 2008 at Oakland Hills, becoming the first European-born Champion since Scotland's Tommy Armour in 1930. Harrington would open up a string of three consecutive internationally born PGA Champions. South Korea's Y.E. Yang stunned the golf world in 2009 at Hazeltine National Golf Club, holding off Woods and becoming the first Asian male to win a major championship.

In 2010, Martin Kaymer became the first German-born player to win a PGA Championship.

American Keegan Bradley, making his first major championship start, staged an improbable rally in 2011 over the final three holes at Atlanta Athletic Club, forcing a threehole aggregate score playoff to defeat Jason Dufner and win the Championship.

Northern Ireland's Rory McIlroy made history at The Ocean Course on Kiawah Island in 2012. With a birdie on the 72nd hole, McIlroy won by eight strokes, bettering Nicklaus's previous record by one.

In 2013, Dufner matched a Championship record with a second-round 63 on his way to recording a two-stroke triumph at Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester, N.Y.

McIlroy emerged dominant in the world again in 2014, adding a hard-fought onestroke victory over Phil Mickelson as daylight faded in the 96th PGA Championship at Valhalla

With one final birdie putt on The Ocean Course, Rory McIlroy of Northern Ireland set the all-time PGA Championship margin of victory in 2012.

On a back nine filled with clutch shots and as much tension as a major can provide, Rory McIlroy emerged from a four-man race to outlast Phil Mickelson and the darkness at Valhalla Golf Club, to capture his second straight major.

McIlroy closed with a 3-under 68 and became only the fifth player to win four majors at age 25 or younger. The others—Tiger Woods, Jack Nicklaus, Bobby Jones and "Young" Tom Morris.

One of the greatest shows on soggy turf came with a most peculiar ending. Three shots behind going to the back nine, McIlroy rallied to take the lead and then birdie No. 17 for a two-shot advantage. Because of a two-hour rain delay, and with darkness falling quickly, it wasn't certain that McIlroy would be able to finish.

McIlroy got the invitation from Rickie Fowler at the No. 18 tee to hit his tee shot

Champion: Rory McIlroy, Holywood, Northern Ireland

Site: Valhalla Golf Club

Louisville, Kentucky

Date Aug. 7-10 Purse: $10 million

Par: 35-36-71 (7,458 yards)

Field: 156 Cut at 145 73 players advanced before Fowler and his playing partner, Mickelson, had reached their drives. Both were only two shots behind. McIlroy then came within a yard of driving into a hazard right of the fairway.

Then, McIlroy, getting permission from a PGA of America Rules Official, hit his second shot.

Fowler missed a 50-foot eagle attempt to tie McIlroy. Mickelson was short of the green, and his chip came within inches of dropping for an eagle that would have tied him for the lead.

McIlroy hit his second shot into a bunker, and two-putted from 35 feet for the one-shot victory.

Mickelson closed with 66, and was runnerup for the ninth time in a major. Fowler became the first player in history to finish in the top five at all four majors without winning one.

Jason Dufner officially closed any debate that he had not recovered from a back-nine PGA Championship collapse in 2011, by turning in a technicianlike performance at Oak Hill Country Club's East Course to win the 95th PGA Championship and his first major title.

Dufner's closing 2-under-par 68 was good for a 10-under-par 270 total and a twostroke victory over Jim Furyk, who could not close the gap, nor could any other challengers, in the final round.

At age 36, playing in all four majors for just the second time. Dufner made the most of his opportunities, producing a near-flawless, second-round 7-under-par 63, which was the 26th round of 63 in a major.

Dufner took the 36-hole lead, and ultimately became the sixth player in history to win a major after posting a 63.

Champion: Jason Dufner, Auburn, Ala.

Site: Oak Hill Country Club | East Course

Pittsford, N.Y.

Date Aug. 8-11 Purse: $8 million

Par: 35-35-70 (7,200 yards)

Field: 156 Cut at 143 75 players advanced

The final weekend stretch was as much proof of how far Dufner has come as perhaps any other segment of the week. He struggled to a 71 on Saturday, and trailed Furyk by one stroke to open Sunday's finale. He made a knee-knocking threefoot par putt on No. 1, saved par on 2, then made back-to-back birdies on Nos. 4 and 5 to tie and go ahead for good. He reached 12-under par through 16 holes, before closing with a pair of bogeys.

Furyk finished runner-up after an even-par 70. Sweden's duo of Henrik Stenson and Jonas Blixt, attempting to make history themselves by giving their homeland its first male major champion, finished third and fourth, respectively, with each posting 70s.

Rory McIlroy, who had lost the form that produced a record PGA Championship triumph a year ago, tied for eighth.

Rory McIlroy had all the tools at his command in the 94th PGA Championship, registering a performance that will rank among legends who march generations ahead. McIlroy validated his record-setting 2011 U.S. Open Championship by blowing away the field at The Ocean Course on Kiawah Island.

McIlroy closed in the style befitting golf's royalty by knocking home a birdie putt from 25 feet on the 18th hole for a 6-under-par 66, and a 13-under-par 275 total. His eight-stroke victory broke the PGA Championship record for victory margin that Jack Nicklaus set in 1980. The 23-year-old from Northern Ireland, who jumped back to No. 1 in the world

Champion: Rory McIlroy, Holywood, Northern Ireland

Site: The Ocean Course Kiawah Island, S.C.

Date Aug. 9-12 Purse: $8 million

Par: 36-36-72 (7,676 yards)

Field: 156 Cut at 150 72 players advanced rankings, is the first from his homeland to win a PGA Championship and a U.S. Open. McIlroy also became the youngest player since Seve Ballesteros to win two majors.

McIlroy separated himself from the field, returning to the course Sunday morning to complete nine holes of a rain-delayed third round, offsetting a bogev at 13 with birdies at 15 and 16. His third-round 67 gave him a threestroke lead. From that point, he went bogey free his final 23 holes, and no one came closer than two strokes.

Former No. 100-ranked David Lynn of England, 38, who made his American debut, closed with a 68 to finish runner-up.

Trailing by five strokes with just three holes to play, Keegan Bradley rallied over a crucible quartet of holes at Atlanta Athletic Club's Highlands Course to become the first major champion using a belly putter, and just the third player in nearly a century to win a major championship in his first attempt. Bradley made back-to-back birdies at the 16th and 17th holes to force a three-hole aggregate-hole playoff with Jason Dufner.

Bradley opened the playoff on the 16th hole by hitting his approach to four feet, after Dunfer's approach nearly hit the flagstick and rolled six feet past.

When Bradley made his birdie putt, it was his first outright lead of the day. He added a two-putt par at 17 and then reached the 471yard 18th hole in regulation. His ball landed just inside of Dufner's. Though Dufner made his final putt, Bradley followed and had a short tap-in to close and become only the third player in nearly a century to win a major championship in his first try. He joined Francis Ouimet (1913 U.S. Open) and Ben Curtis (2003 Open Championship) in that exclusive club.

Bradley also is one of six PGA Champions (following Jack Burke Jr., Dave Marr, Raymond Floyd, Davis Love III and Rich Beem), who is the son of a PGA Professional. Bradley closed regulation play with a 2-under-par 68 and matched Dufner at 8-under-par 272. Dufner posted a 69.

Denmark's Anders Hansen was a stroke back in third after a 66, and 2001 Champion David Toms (67), Sweden's Robert Karlsson (67), who suffered three straight bogeys after coming within a stroke of the lead, shared fourth with Scott Verplank (70) at 275.

Germany's Martin Kaymer emerged victorious from a three-hole playoff with Bubba Watson, posting a winning even-par total in the overtime drama to become his country's first PGA Champion and second ever to win one of golf's four majors. The dramatics, however, were more compelling prior to the playoff when Dustin Johnson – clinging to a one-stroke lead standing on the 18th tee – saw his chances for glory erased due to a rule violation in a tiny sand bunker on the right-hand side of the fairway. Johnson had placed his 4-iron behind the ball, unaware that it was part of a bunker. He went on to pitch to seven feet of the hole, just missing a par putt that was to have been a Championship-winning stroke. However, he incurred a two-stroke penalty for grounding his club in a bunker – outside the ropes and missed the playoff. Kaymer accomplished his feat after tying for eighth in the U.S. Open and sharing seventh at the Open Championship. Kaymer began the day four strokes behind third-round leader Nick Watney and finished regulation tied with Watson at 11-under-par 277. Watson birdied the first playoff hole and Kaymer the second. Then Watson went for the green out of thick rough from 206 yards at the 18th, the third playoff hole, and put his ball into Seven Mile Creek, 40 yards short of the green. After seeing what happened to Watson, Kaymer chipped back to the fairway before putting a 7-iron third shot 15 feet from the hole. Watson took a penalty stroke, on his way to a double bogey. Kaymer two-putted for a bogey and victory.

South Korea's Y.E. Yang, 37, established a historic milestone on a course known for surprise finishes by delivering the biggest shocker of them all - chasing down, outplaying and dethroning Tiger Woods on a Sunday. Yang became the first male Asian player to win one of golf's four major championships. Trailing Woods by nine strokes after the fifth hole of his second round, Yang's record PGA comeback wasn't complete until he drilled a 210-yard 3-hybrid approach at 18 that soared up and over a tree, cleared a greenside bunker and came to rest 12 feet from the flagstick. Yang made that birdie putt for a 2-under-par 70, added a fist pump amidst the roar of a massive gallery at Hazeltine National Golf Club, and posted an 8-under-par 280 total. That was good for a three-stroke triumph over Woods, whose closing 75 bore no resemblance to the same player who had taken a perfect 14-for-14 slate after sharing or holding alone the lead into the final round of a major. Hazeltine National, hosting its fourth major and second PGA Championship, served up the longest course in major championship history at 7,674 yards. The field featured a PGA Championship-record 69 internationals representing 21 countries, and 97 of the top 100 world-ranked players - just one ranked player shy of the mark set in the 2002 Championship at Hazeltine.

Ireland's Padraig Harrington carved his way into history at the 90th PGA Championship, capturing his third major championship and second in a span of three weeks. In the process, he snatched the Championship from Sergio Garcia's grasp in the final few holes.

Champion: Padraig Harrington, Dublin, Ireland
Site:	Oakland	Oakland Hills Country Club,
	Bloomfield Township, Mich.
Date:	Aug. 7-1	0	Purse:	$7.5 million
Par:	35-35-7	70 (7,445 yards)
Field:	156	Cut at I 48	73 playe	ers advanced

Harrington, 36, became the first European in the modern era to win the British Open and PGA Championship in succession, and the first to win the PGA Championship since Scotland's Tommy Armour in 1930. Harrington put together back-to-back rounds of 4-under-par 66, and completed 27 holes on the final day after a third round was suspended by rain in mid-afternoon. Harrington's signature moments came on the final three holes where he made pressure putt after putt, including a 15-footer for par at No. 18.

J.B. Holmes (139)

Padraig Harrington (277)

Ben Curtis (208)

Harrington's winning 72-hole total of 3-under-par 277 was good for a two-stroke margin over

Spain's	Garcia a	and Ame	rica's	Ben Curtis,	the 2003 British Open champ	on whose chances faded with bogey	s on two of his final four ho	four holes. Garcia closed with a 68 and Curtis a 71 to share runner-up honors at 279. Sweden's Henrik Stenson posted a 72 that left hir	n and Co	olombia's	Can	nilo Villegas	, who had a 68, sharing four	th at 281. The PGA Championship	featured the year's stronge	st field, de	espite the	absen	ice of two-tin	ne defending PGA Champion T	ger Woods (who was sidelined while	recovering from knee surgery). The Ch	ampionsl	nip ha	d 93 of the to	op 100 world-ranked players, inc	luding 68 international players represe	nting 20 countries.

Tiger Woods withstood back-nine challenges by Woody Austin and Ernie Els at steamy Southern Hills, and earned a fourth PGA Championship, a 13th major title and moved a notch higher to the 18-major standard set by Jack Nicklaus.

Cham	pion: Tig	ion: Tiger Woods, Windermere, Fla.
Site:	Souther	Southern Hills Country Club, Tulsa, Okla.
Date:	Aug. 9-1	12	Purse:	$7 million
Par:	35-35-7	70 (7,121 yards)
Field:	156	Cut at 145	71 playe	ers advanced

Woods finished with a 1-under-par 69 for a two-stroke victory over Austin, who grinded his way to a 67 for his best finish in any major championship. Els finished three strokes back in third, the victim of a faulty putter. It was a day in which Woods entered the final round with a three-stroke lead and slipped once, a three-putt bogey on the 14th hole. He rebounded quickly, sinking a birdie putt at 15, pointing as the ball fell in the cup. He followed by running off three consecutive pars to secure the Championship.

Woods' perfect 13-for-13 major championship performance after either sharing or leading alone after 54 holes remains his trademark in a career full of records. His 13 majors tied the great Bobby Jones, and he is one PGA Championship shy of the record shared by Nicklaus and Walter Hagen.

Woods jumped back into the Championship after an opening 71, by thrilling the Southern Hills galleries with a secondround 63, his lowest round in a major. He tied the Southern Hills course record first set by Raymond Floyd in 1982, and he would go on to become just the fifth player out of 21 to shoot 63 in a major who would record a victory.

Tiger Woods walked off Medinah's No. 3 Course for the second time in six years in victory, collecting a third PGA Championship, his 12th major title and accomplishing what no previous winner achieved in the process. Medinah's Champion: Tiger Woods, Windermere, Fla. Site: Medinah (III.) Country Club (No. 3 Course) Purse: $6,800,000 Date: Aug. 17-20 36-36-72 (7,561 yards) Field: 156 Cut at 144 70 players advanced hiearchy quickly voted Woods an honorary member. Woods overwhelmed his competition with much the same bravado that he exhibited in the early portion of his career, registering a workmanlike 4-under-par 68, for a five-stroke victory, and leaving only Nicklaus and his 18 titles in his path.

He opened with a 10-foot birdie to take the lead from playing partner Luke Donald and never looked back, while cruising on the longest course in major Championship history. The No. 3 Course was stretched to 7,561 yards, or 35 yards longer than the 2004 PGA Championship at Whistling Straits in Kohler, Wis. Woods also is the first player in history to win at least two Donald, bidding to become the first European-born PGA Champion since Denny Shute in 1930, slumped to a 74, and finished tied for third at 276 with Australia's Adam Scott, who had a 67, and Spain's Sergio Garcia, who posted a 70.

Phil Mickelson made superlative use of two weeks of preparations for the 87th PGA Championship, making a pilgrimage to Baltusrol Golf Club and later returning to execute his game plan to perfection.

Cham	pion: P	hil Mickelson, Sco	ttsdale, Ariz.
Site:	Baltusro	ol Golf Club (Lower	Course), Springfield, N.J
Date:	Aug. I	1-14	Purse: $6,500,000
Par:	35-35-	-70 (7,186 yards)
Field:	156	Cut at 147	75 players advanced

He capped the dramatics by making a flop shot from the rough from some 50 feet from the hole for a two-foot tap-in birdie and a one-stroke victory in just the third Monday weather-related finish in a PGA Championship.

Mickelson led or shared the lead throughout a steamy week in Springfield, N.J. His second major championship came on a day after 12 players were unable to finish a day earlier due to a passing thunderstorm.

Mickelson's final-round 2-over-par 72 was good for a winning total of 4-under-par 276, a stroke better than Denmark's Thomas Bjorn and Australia's Steve Elkington, the 1995 PGA Champion.

Two-time PGA Champion Tiger Woods finished fourth with Davis Love III at 278.

Vijay Singh, who couldn't buy a birdie putt for 18 holes, finally found paydirt in overtime to capture his third major title in the 86th PGA Championship at Whistling Straits-Straits Course in Kohler, Wis.

Champion: Vijay Singh, Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla.
Site:	Whistli	ng Straits (Straits C	Course), Kohler, Wis.
Date:	Aug. I	2-15	Purse: $6,250,000
Par:	36-36-	-72 (7,536 yards)
Field:	156	Cut at 146	73 players advanced

Fiji's most famous sportsman earned his second PGA Championship, and first since 1998, while winning a record $1.125 million from a $6.25 million purse. Singh accomplished his feat on a course that was the longest (7,536 yards) in major championship history and among a field featuring 95 of the world's top 100 ranked players.

His closing 4-over-par 76 was the third-highest final round by a major championship winner, and good for a 72-hole total of 8-under-par 280.

Singh made his only birdie of the day a timely one, sinking a five-foot putt on his 19th hole - the uphill, 361-yard, par-4 10th - and went on to post two additional pars in the three-hole cumulative score playoff. It was just enough to defeat Justin Leonard and Chris DiMarco. Singh became the fourth oldest to win a PGA Championship at 41 years, five months and 23 days. His closing 76 was the highest score by a major championship winner since Reg Whitcombe's 78 at Royal St. George's in the 1938 British Open.

skirts of a city renowned for its inventiveness – in optical science, photocopiers and photo processing - Micheel capped the week by producing his own Kodak moment. Micheel's 7-iron approach to within two inches of the 72nd hole – a shot which he and caddie Bob Szczesny judged to be 175 yards – left an indelible stamp on a topsy turvy Championship. The season's final major featured the year's strongest field – 96 of the top 100 ranked players, just two players shy of the 2002 all-time record. The Championship also yielded the largest international contingent in PGA Championship history – 60 players representing 20 countries - which also was the most for any U.S. major championship this year.

Chad Campbell, who began the final round tied with Micheel at 4-under-par, dueled the final 18 holes, coming within a stroke after a Micheel bogey on the 17th hole. Campbell finished with a 72 and 278, while South Africa's Tim Clark was third at 279 after a 69. Alex Cejka of the Czech Republic ended fourth at 280 after a 69.

Rich Beem answered every challenge on his way to winning the 84th PGA Championship and withstood a furious charge by the game's best player, Tiger Woods, to cart off the Wanamaker Trophy at Hazeltine National Golf Club.

Champion: Rich Beem, El Paso, Texas
Site:	Hazel	ltine National Golf	Club, Chaska, Minn.
Date:	Aug.	15-18	Purse: $5,500,000
Par:	36-36	-72 (7,355 yards)
Field:	156	Cut at 148	72 players advanced

Beem earned $990,000 for the third victory of his improbable four-year career - and second in two starts. On one Sunday in Minnesota, it was Woods who came up short. He trailed Beem by two strokes at the start of the round, pulled within one but could get no closer. Beem posted a 4-under-par 68 for a winning total of 10-under-par 278 and one better than Woods, who closed with a 67. Beem became the 12th champion of the last 15 PGA Championships to claim his first major title. Beem is the fourth son of a PGA Professional to win the PGA Championship. He is joined by Jack Burke Jr. (1955), Dave Marr (1965) and Davis Love III (1997). Beem is the son of Larry Beem, a PGA Life Member and teaching professional, who is the golf coach at New Mexico State in Las Cruces, N.M. Larry was a standout collegiate player at New Mexico State in the 1960s, and his son followed as a player at New Mexico State.

David Toms used a pair of momentous strokes, nearly 24 hours apart, to capture the first major championship of his 12-year professional career. In the third round, Toms set the tone for a pulsating final 18 holes

Champion: David Toms, Shreveport, La.
Site:	The A	he Atlanta Athletic Club, Duluth, Ga.
Date:	Aug. I	6-19	Purse: $5,200,000
Par:	35-35	-70 (7,213 yards)
Field:	150	Cut at 141	76 players advanced by hitting a 5-wood tee shot 243 yards and into the hole on the par-3 15th. It was the longest ace in a major championship and the first time a hole-in-one produced the eventual PGA Champion.

Toms never surrendered the lead in the final round, but was tied several times by Phil Mickelson, the last after a birdie chip from 45 feet on the 15th. Mickelson then three-putted the 16th to give Toms the lead again and set up a dramatic final-hole decision on the treacherous par-4, 490-yard 18th. Toms hit his drive right of the fairway into the first cut of rough and 209 yards from the hole. He reached for a wedge and laid up to within 88 yards and short of the water. From there, he hit a lob wedge to what he later estimated to be 12 feet from the hole. Mickelson lagged a 25-foot birdie putt two rolls short of the hole. Toms then stroked home his winning par putt.

With a steady, closing 1-under-par 69, Toms shattered the PGA and major championship 72-hole scoring records. His 15-under-par 265 broke the 1993 British Open aggregate total by Greg Norman (267) and the PGA Championship standards set in 1995 by Steve Elkington and Colin Montgomerie (267). Elkington captured that year's title in a one-hole playoff.

Tiger Woods had chased the records Bob May set in the Southern California junior golf ranks, but the twosome had never faced one another in competition. That drought ended before a world stage in the 82nd PGA Championship at Valhalla Golf Club in Louisville, Ky.

Woods and May dueled through the final round and then finished in a three-hole playoff. Both played brilliantly down the stretch, each posting a bogey-free 31 on the back nine.

Woods, pushed to the limit, reached down for something extra. He birdied the final two holes in regulation and the first hole (the 16th) in the Championship's first-ever three-hole aggregate score playoff. From there, Woods made memorable par saves on the final two holes to earn his second Wanamaker Trophy. He became the first player since Ben Hogan in 1953 to win three major titles in one year. Woods erased a PGA jinx of capturing back-to-back Championships. Woods also became the first to do so since Denny Shute (1936-37) and is the first to repeat in the stroke (medal) play era of the Championship that began in 1958. Woods was tested from the beginning, losing his one-stroke margin through 54 holes, with a rare bogey on the par-5 second hole.

Woods didn't clinch his fifth major championship until May missed a 30-foot birdie putt by inches on the final hole of the playoff.

Just 23 and with the game of a veteran, Tiger Woods captured the 81st PGA Championship at Medinah (III.) Country Club, and may have found his biggest rival as golf heads into the next century. Woods nearly squandered a five-stroke lead before salvaging an even-par 72 for a winning total of 11-under-par 277. His two-putt for par on the 72nd hole was one stroke better than 19-year-old Sergio Garcia of Spain. Woods took home a first-place prize of $630,000 from a PGA Championship record purse of $3.5 million. Jay Haas, the 36-hole leader, and Stewart Cink tied for third at 280.

The real drama in the woods of Medinah evolved on the back nine of the final round.

Garcia, who took the first-round lead, is the youngest player to compete in the PGA Championship since Gene Sarazen in 1921. Woods, who won the 1997 Masters title, was competing in his third PGA Championship. He became the fifth-youngest PGA Champion and the youngest since Jack Nicklaus in 1963.

Woods triumphed over the strongest field in the history of golf. A record 92 of the world's top 100 players, featuring 43 international players from 19 countries, competed for the Wanamaker Trophy. One international contestant, left-hander Mike Weir of Canada, tied Woods for the third-round lead. But Weir fell quickly out of contention in the final round and tied for 10th after an 80.

Vijay Singh, the national sports hero of tiny Fiji, delivered a gritty performance to win the 80th PGA Championship, which was the first PGA Championship staged in the Pacific Northwest in 54 years. The 35-year-old Singh recorded a final-round 2-under-par 68, including a two-putt par on the treacherous 18th, to finish at 9-under-par 271. His two-stroke victory over Steve Stricker earned him $540,000. Steve Elkington, the 1995 Champion, finished third at 274 after a 67.

Singh became the 10th player in 11 years to earn his first major championship at the PGA Championship and the 10th international player to win the Wanamaker Trophy. Singh triumphed over a 150-player field featuring 85 of the top 100 world-ranked players, who among them owned 53 major championship titles.

Singh and Stricker shared the third-round lead, and each had an adventurous final round at Sahalee. Stricker scrambled to a closing 70. The twosome was four strokes ahead of the field as they began the final round. Stricker lost a share of the lead on the ninth hole and trailed by a stroke before a bogey at the par-3 17th. Singh was boosted by a birdie on the 11th, where his second shot ricocheted off a tree and settled 50 feet from the hole. He also birdied the 15th before Stricker made his hirdie, then parred out from there for the victory would he fulfill the promise of his youth and win a major championship. The son of a PGA Professional, Love found his answer in a stirring week at Winged Foot

Golf Club. Love opened with a first-round 66, followed with a 71, then bounced back with a pair of 66s that gave him an 11-under-par winning total for 72 holes, the lowest of any champion in Winged Foot's storied 74 years. Love led the world's best players in driving distance (a 307-yard average), tied for third in putting (113), tied for 12th in greens in regulation and tied for 21st in fairways hit.

Love accomplished all of that while defeating his playing partner and reigning British Open Champion, Justin Leonard.

Love survived his biggest hurdle at the par-3 13th, when he pulled a 4-iron into deep rough near the green. Leonard's tee shot landed 15 feet from the cup. Love then responded by hitting an L-wedge approach almost into the hole.

Leonard missed his birdie try, bogeyed the 14th hole and Love had the cushion he needed for an emotional walk up the 18th fairway. Jeff Maggert, who tied the competitive course record with a 65, finished third at 276.

Mark Brooks' focused game plan proved to be the key to victory, as the 78th PGA Championship celebrated its first visit to Valhalla Golf Club. The field featured 81 of the top 100 Sony world-ranked players. Brooks, 35,

Par:	36-36	–72 (7,144 yards)
Field:	150	Cut at 145	81 play	ers advanced capped a dramatic final round by making two birdies within 20 minutes on the par-5, 540-yard 18th hole. He knocked home a five-foot birdie putt in regulation play and then joined Kentucky-born favorite Kenny Perry for the 14th playoff in PGA Championship history.

From the 18th tee in the playoff, Brooks' tee shot split the fairway, and Perry's drive found the left-hand rough. Perry failed to get out of the rough until his fourth approach shot crept on the putting surface. Brooks calmly hit a 229-yard 3-wood approach to the green. He two-putted, making a four-foot birdie putt to claim victory.

Brooks' steady play was reflected in how he handled Valhalla's slick greens and in steering his drives away from the rough. Brooks ranked first in putting among the elite field, needing only 104 putts, and was tied for 21st in driving accuracy.

Championship record by two strokes. Moments later, Scotland's Colin Montgomerie registered a 65 to tie the record total that was the lowest 72-hole score in a U.S. major championship and tie Greg Norman's all-time major championsip total from the 1993 British Open. A sudden-death playoff followed, and Elkington went on to make a 25-foot birdie putt at the 18th green, then watched as Montgomerie missed his 20-foot birdie attempt on the right side of the cup. Elkington concluded the year by winning his first Vardon Trophy for lowest adjusted scoring average. The 77th PGA Championship produced the lowest course average in Championship history (71.09) and the second most sub-par rounds (194). Among the records tied was a final-round 63 by Brad Faxon, who finished fifth. Faxon's performance included a front-nine 28 for the lowest nine-hole score in PGA Championship history. Faxon salvaged his gem by making a 15-foot par-saving putt on the 18th green.

In one of the most dominating performances of any major championship, Nick Price shattered a 30-year-old PGA Championship record with a six-stroke victory at Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa, Okla. Price, Champion: Nick Price, Orlando, Fla. Site: Southern Hills CC, Tulsa, Okla. Purse: $1,700,000 Date: Aug. 11-14 Par: 35-35–70 (6,824 Yards) Field: 151 Cut at 145 76 players advanced a native of South Africa, became the third international player to win two PGA Championships. In earning the world's No. 1 ranking against the year's strongest field, Price posted a final-round 67 for an 11-under-par 269 for 72 holes. Price's performance was two strokes lower than Bobby Nichols' previous PGA Championship record set in 1964 and the lowest of any U.S. major championship. Price's victory also made him the first golfer in 12 years to win consecutive Grand Slam events in the same year. Price, who won the British Open a month earlier, was the first player since Walter Hagen in 1924 to win back-to-back British Open and PGA Championship titles. The 76th PGA Championship marked the final appearance of Arnold Palmer, who had competed in a record 37 consecutive Championships.

foot-2 Bradenton, Fla., resident birdied four of the last seven holes to post a 12-under-par 272 for a back-nine Inverness record 30. His 72-hole score forced a playoff with Greg Norman, a runner-up at Inverness Club in 1986. Azinger survived after two-putting from eight feet on the second playoff hole. Norman's par attempt from four feet above the hole rimmed in and out of the hole.

Fiji native Vijay Singh became the 15th player to shoot 63 in a major championship, posting the course-record score in the second round.

Every sport has that one magical moment when an unknown or longshot emerges to inspire people everywhere by winning an event few believed possible. For golf, the 1991 PGA Championship produced long-driving John Daly of Dardanelle, Ark. Daly, the ninth alternate, got his chance to compete when Nick Price withdrew to be present at the birth of his child, and three alternates ahead of Daly declined. Without the benefit of a practice round, Daly posted an opening-round 69 to share eighth place. He seized the lead for good, closing the Championship with rounds of 67, 69 and 71 for a 276 total, and a three-stroke victory over Bruce Lietzke.

Payne Stewart birdied four of the last five holes, shooting a 31 over the final nine, to edge runners-up Mike Reid, Curtis Strange and Andy Bean, and win his first major title. Reid, who led the 71st PGA Championship until the finishing holes, bogeyed 16, Champion: Payne Stewart, Orlando, Fla. Site: Kemper Lakes GC, Hawthorn Woods, III. Purse: $1,200,000 Date: Aug. 10-13 Par: 36-36–72 (7,217 Yards) Field: 150 Cut at 145 70 players advanced double-bogeyed 17 and missed an 8-foot birdie putt on 18. Windless playing conditions at Kemper Lakes, a public golf facility, helped produce holes-in-one by Mark O'Meara, Lanny Wadkins, Scott Hoch and Davis Love III. The four aces tied a PGA Championship record established in 1988.

The 70th PGA Championship was played at difficult Oak Tree

Golf Club in Edmond, Okla., rated as one of the hardest courses in the country. Understandably, players were concerned that scores would be high. Instead, the 1988 PGA Championship

Champion: Jeff Sluman, Naples, Fla.
Site:	Oak Tree GC, Edmond, Okla.
Date:	Aug.	11-14	Purse:	$1,000,000
Par:	36-35	-71 (7,015 Yards)
Field:	150	Cut at 144	72 play	ers advanced turned out to be the second easiest in Championship history. This made for some exciting golf, as second-round leader Paul Azinger made a hole-in-one, which was witnessed live by millions on TV during the third round. Even with Azinger having a hot hand the entire week, Jeff Sluman proved to be hotter, when he fired a final-round 65. The round included an eagle-3 on the par-5 fifth hole, where Sluman holed a 100-yard wedge.

the second-round lead at 137 with Trevino and Player. In that round, Player leaped into contention with a 63, the lowest single round in PGA Championship history.

Trevino, wielding a hot putter he purchased a few weeks earlier in Holland, took the lead on Saturday with a 67 and on Sunday turned back every bid Wadkins and Player could offer until he walked off the 72nd green with a four-shot victory at 273.

1983 A brilliant 6-underpar 65 provided Hal Sutton with the opening-round lead. The 1982 Rookie of the Year followed up with rounds of 66, 72 and 71 for a "wire-to-wire" victory in spite of a last-day charge by Jack Nicklaus, who added his fourth second-place PGA Championship finish to his recordtying five PGA Championship victories. The one-stroke win led to Sutton's No. 1 money-winning year and his first PGA Player of the Year Award.

Australian David Graham fired a 5-under-par 65 over the final round, despite a double bogey on the 72nd hole, to tie Ben Crenshaw at 8-under-par 272, the second-lowest 72-hole total since the Championship switched to stroke play. Graham tied Crenshaw on the first two playoff holes, with one putt of 18 feet for par on the first hole, and 10 feet for birdie on the second hole. Graham won the Championship with a birdie on the third playoff hole.

For the first time, a major championship was decided in a sudden-death playoff, as Lanny Wadkins made a six-foot par putt on the third extra hole to beat Gene Littler, who led from the first round. Wadkins began the final round six shots behind Littler and was Champion: Lanny Wadkins, Dallas, Texas Site: Pebble Beach Golf Links, Pebble Beach, Calif. Date: Aug. 11-14 Purse: $250,750 Par: 36-36–72 (6,804 Yards) Field: 138 Cut at 151 71 players advanced still five behind with nine holes to play, despite two front-nine eagles. Littler bogeyed five of the first six holes on the back nine, allowing Jack Nicklaus to tie him at the 15th hole, with the 27-year-old Wadkins just one shot back. Nicklaus bogeyed the par-3 17th, and Wadkins pulled into a tie with Littler, with his only birdie of the day at the 18th.

For the first time in history, rain pushed the final round of a PGA Championship over to Monday. A record 115,450 spectators attended the Championship. Needing a par on the treacherous 18th hole at Congressional to win his second PGA Championship, and avoid a playoff with Don January and Raymond Floyd, Dave Stockton made his 10-foot putt for par. His rounds of 70-72-69-70-281 matched the highest winning total in this classic at the time.

1975 Played on one of Jack Nicklaus' favorite courses, Firestone

South, Nicklaus ran his string of PGA Championship victories to four, one shy of Walter Hagen's record. With opening rounds of 70 and 68, Nicklaus found himself three shots behind Bruce Crampton, whose second-round 63 was the lowest round ever in the Championship. But on Saturday, Nicklaus shot 67, while Crampton soared to 75 for an eight-shot swing, giving Nicklaus a four-shot lead going into the final round. On the final day, Nicklaus cruised to a 71 for a twoshot victory over runner-up Crampton.

Lee Trevino, bran-dishing an old putter he found in the attic of his rented home, slogged his way to victory in a week of steady rain. During the third round, Trevino moved in front with a 68 to establish a one-stroke lead over Jack Nicklaus. In the final round, Nicklaus fired a flawless 69, but couldn't overtake Trevino who matched Nicklaus' performance for a one-stroke victory.

Jack Nicklaus made the 56th PGA Championship a memorable one by making it his 14th major championship, erasing Bobby Jones' record which had stood for 43 years. Nicklaus opened with a 72, which left him tied for 22nd, but a pair of 68s made him the third-round leader. A closing 69 gave Nicklaus a 277 total and a four-shot victory over runner-up Bruce Crampton.

It was a "miracle" 9iron shot from an almost impossible position that brought the Championship to Gary Player for a second time. Player bogeyed the 14th and 15th holes in the final round and seemingly ended his chances when he pushed his tee shot far to the right on the 16th hole. Unable to see the flag, Player lofted the ball over a menacing willow tree and pond to within four feet of the hole. Player birdied the hole and went on to score a two-stroke victory over Tommy Aaron and Jim Jamieson.

Jack Nicklaus scored a wire-to-wire victory with a 7-under-par 281 to beat Billy Casper, who birdied the last two holes to slip in front of Tommy Bolt. The victory made Nicklaus the first professional to twice conquer the Grand Slam of Golf - the PGA Championship, U.S. Open, British Open and Masters titles.

Dave Stockton, a 28-year-old California native, came out of the pack in the third round to fire a 66 and take a three-stroke lead. In the final round, he held off late charges by Arnold Palmer and Bob Murphy, despite a near disaster at the 13th hole, where he put his second shot in a pond and then lofted a wedge shot to within inches of the hole, to pull out a bogey. He finished two in front of Murphy and Palmer. For Palmer, it was the third time he finished in a second-place tie in this, the only major championship he has never won.

Raymond Floyd survived an outburst of social turbulence focused on Gary Player, and a gritty stretch drive by the South African, to win the 51st PGA Championship by one stroke. Floyd took a one-stroke lead in the second round and extended it to five strokes on Saturday, the same day a group of militant protesters erupted onto the golf course while Player was preparing to putt on the 10th green. Player, however, staged a rally in the final round, carrying him within a stroke of Floyd, after Floyd bogeyed the 13th and 15th holes. Player bogeyed the 16th, while Floyd ran in a 35-foot birdie putt. Player's birdie at the 17th fell short of catching Floyd, who posted a winning 276.

Julius Boros survived the wilting midsummer Texas heat and the treacherous 18th hole at Pecan Valley

Country Club to snatch the 50th PGA Championship from Arnold Palmer and Bob Charles. Palmer, frustrated again in Champion: Julius Boros, Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Site: Pecan Valley CC, San Antonio, Texas Purse: $150,000 Date: July 18-21 Par: 35-35-70 (7,096 Yards) Field: 165 Cut at 149 76 players advanced his quest for a PGA Championship title, made a magnificent par at the final hole for a 282, after watching several good birdie putts slide past the cup in the closing round. But Boros pitched a long chip within two feet of the pin for a par, becoming, at the age of 48, the oldest winner in PGA Championship history.

For the second time in the 10-year history of the PGA Championship contested at stroke play, the winner was decided in a playoff. Played in the thin, mile-high Colorado atmosphere, two lowland neighbors from Texas, Don January and Don Massengale, adapted nicely to the rarefied air to come down to the wire deadlocked at 281. Even though January had lost the 1961 PGA Championship in a playoff, he proved the steadier of the two in an 18-hole playoff, with a 3-under-par 69 to Massengale's 71.

The 1966 Championship was a triumph for Al Geiberger. Munching peanut butter sandwiches for stamina, the California native shared the first-round lead with Sam Snead. The lead bounced back and forth, but when Snead fired closing rounds of 75 and 73, Geiberger won with four strokes to spare over Dudley Wysong, whose thirdround 66 was the best of the Championship.

Dave Marr, 31, started the final round in a first place tie with Tommy Aaron. With Aaron fading with a 40 on the front nine, Billy Casper and Jack Nicklaus were threatening. Going into the last hole, Marr hooked his drive into a trap. He played his second shot short of a lake that lies in front of the green and hit a 9-iron three feet from the cup. He made the putt for a two-stroke win over Casper and Nicklaus.

Gary Player, posting a 2-under-par 278, became the second foreign citizen to win the PGA Championship, beating hard-charging Bob Goalby by one stroke. Goalby brought the Championship to a thrilling climax by making birdies at 14 and 16 during the final round, but the 26-year-old South African staved off the rally, as both parred the final two holes.

In the final round, 31year-old Don January led 45-year-old Jerry Barber by four shots with three holes remaining. However, Barber sank putts of 20 feet for a birdie, 40 feet for a par, and 60 feet for a birdie on the last three holes to match January's 277. In the 18hole playoff, Barber again trailed January by two strokes on two different occasions, but rallied to finish with a 67, for a one-stroke edge over January.

There were only 13 sub-par rounds in the entire Championship at the rebuilt Firestone Country Club in Akron, Ohio. With those scores, a different man turned up as the leader at the end of each round. Arnold Palmer captured the first-round lead with an opening 67. Jay Hebert fired a final-round 70, despite a double-bogey 6 on the 10th hole, for a one-stroke victory over Jim Ferrier.

Llanerch Country Club was the site of the first four-day, 72-hole stroke-play contest in PGA Championship history, and the first Championship covered by television. CBS broadcast three holes and the winner's award ceremony. On the first day, 28-year-old Dow Finsterwald led with a 3-under-par 67. After 36 holes, he shared the lead with Jay Hebert at 139. Sam Snead went ahead after 54 holes with 207. Going into the final round, Finsterwald was two back and shot a 31 on the front nine, on his way to posting a 67 for a two-stroke victory over Billy Casper.

Lionel Hebert won the final PGA Championship conducted at match play, defeating Dow Finsterwald, 3 and 1, at Miami Valley Golf Club in Dayton, Ohio. It was the second consecutive Championship contested with a 128-player field. In the finals, neither Hebert nor Finsterwald enjoyed larger than a 1-up advantage. Hebert's momentum turned at the 32nd hole when he made a 15-foot birdie putt to go 1-up. Each player matched birdies the next two holes before the 34th when Finsterwald hit into a creek in front of the green and failed to make par, boosting Hebert's lead to 2-up. With a routine par at the 35th hole, Hebert closed out the match, earning the $8,000 check.

Defending Champion Jack Burke Jr. was ousted by Milon Marusic, 2 and 1, in the morning 18 holes the second day. Former Champions Doug Ford and Walter Burkemo also advanced, as Burkemo beat William Heinlien, 1-up, on the 19th hole and Tony Holquin, 1-up. Ford beat James Guinnup, 4 and 3, in the morning and Robert Gajda, 3 and 2, in the afternoon.

Finsterwald upset Sam Snead, 3 and 1, in the fourth round and then beat Charles Sheppard, 2-up, in the quarterfinals. Snead blamed his faulty driving. "I just drove awful," said Snead after his loss to Finsterwald. Snead hit two drives out-of-bounds with hooks as he was out in 39, the high nine-hole score for any of the contestants.

In the fourth round, U.S. Open winner Dick Mayer edged Ted Kroll, 1-up, but then was upset by Don Whitt, 2 and 1, in the quarterfinals. Jay Hebert, brother of the eventual Champion, also upset Doug Ford in the fourth round, 3 and 2, but then was defeated by Walter Burkemo, 2 and 1.

Lionel Hebert, who edged Claude Harmon, 2 and 1, in the quarterfinals, went on to down Walter Burkemo, 3 and 1, in the semifinals. Burkemo was 1-up after the morning round and was 2-up after Hebert called a penalty stroke against himself. Hebert said the ball moved on the 19th green as he was about to make his address. During the next eight holes, Hebert out-putted Burkemo, who had two 3-putts, and took a 2-up lead at the 27th hole. Burkemo won the 28th hole, but lost the 32nd hole, and Hebert ended the match with a 5-iron to within a foot for a birdie at the 35th hole. In the other semifinal, Finsterwald defeated Don Whitt, 2-up, but not before Whitt aced the 13th hole with an 8-iron in the morning round to square the match at the halfway mark. In the afternoon Whitt birdied the 25th hole to move 1-up, then bogeyed the 27th hole. Finsterwald grabbed the lead for good at the 30th hole when Whitt drove out-of-bounds, and birdied the 36th holes for a 2-up decision.

Jack Burke Jr. overcame a two-hole deficit in the morning round at Blue Hill Golf & Country Club in Canton, Mass., to defeat Ted Kroll, 3 and 2, in the first PGA Championship featuring a 128player match-play field. Burke's rally in the afternoon half of the 36-hole final came after falling 3-down on the 19th hole. But he rallied by winning five of the next seven holes and posted a 32. With a 2-up lead going into the final nine, Burke claimed victory on the 34th hole, when Kroll bogeyed.

It was Burke's second major championship of the year, having captured the Masters that April. Kroll, who was awarded the Purple Heart during service in World War II, suffered his second disappointment in a major. He was in contention on the closing holes of the 1956 U.S. Open, only to see Cary Middlecoff take the title.

Defending Champion Doug Ford edged Mike Dietz on the fifth extra hole in the second round by holing a 40-yard wedge pitch for a birdie-3. Ford's fortunes ended there, as he bowed to former PGA Champion Walter Burkemo, 5 and 3, in the afternoon.

Veterans Gene Sarazen and Sam Snead each won two matches in the second round, while Jim Turnesa took 20 holes in the afternoon to beat former U.S. Open winner Jack Fleck, 1-up. Snead fell in the third day after downing Sarazen, 5 and 4, in the morning round. But, Snead's putter was his undoing in the afternoon, as he fell to Ted Kroll, 2 and 1. For the 35 holes that Kroll played, he one-putted eight times.

In the semifinals, Burke overcame a five-hole deficit to win a thrilling extrahole match against Ed Furgol. Burke was 5-down after the 14th hole in his 36-hole match with Furgol. By winning the 15th, 16th and 18th holes, he was only down by two holes going to lunch. In the afternoon,

Burke fell back to 3-down, but won five holes in a row, starting at the 24th hole, to take the lead for the first time. Burke had a 2-up lead, only to see the match get squared with Furgol birdies at the 30th and 35th holes. At the final hole, both players made birdie, and Burke won the match with a 12footer at the 37th hole for another birdie. In the other match, Kroll rolled past Bill Johnston, 10 and 8, in a match in which Johnston slumped to an 81 in the morning round.

Doug Ford scored a 4and-3 victory over Cary Middlecoff in a match that was tightly contested through the first 27 holes at Meadowbrook Country Club in Northville, Mich. Despite a morning 66 by Ford, Middlecoff battled to a 1-up lead with a 67. Ford rallied in the afternoon, squaring the match for the fourth time on the 26th hole with a birdie. He then birdied the 29th. 30th and 32nd holes to take a 3-up advantage and closed the match with a par-4 at the 33rd hole. It was a storybook week for Ford, competing in his first PGA Championship and becoming the first player to win under that scenario since Tom Creavy in 1931. He was also the fourth player in PGA Championship match-play history to win the Championship after winning medalist honors. Other players to achieve that feat were Walter Hagen (1926), Olin Dutra (1932), and Byron Nelson (1945). In 1927, Hagen shared medalist honors with Jim Turnesa.

Ford also became the last to achieve medalist-to-champion distinction, as The PGA of America eliminated the 36-hole qualifier in 1956, doubling the field to 128 participants who went straight into match

With Ford dominating the 36-hole qualifying round with a 135 total, there were notables who didn't make it to match play. The list included two-time PGA Champion Denny Shute (148) and past Champions Jim Turnesa (151) and Chandler Harper (152).

The Championship's first day featured the defeat of all the past Champions, including Sam Snead. Snead fell to Tommy Bolt, 3 and 2, in the afternoon, closing out the contest in spectacular fashion, holing out from a greenside bunker at the 16th hole. The defending Champion, Chick Harbert, who beat Eric Monti, 3 and 1, in the morning match, was forced out in the afternoon, 1-up, by Johnny Palmer, who had been a finalist with Snead in 1949. Walter Burkemo fell to Middlecoff, 2 and 1; while Gene Sarazen was routed, 6 and 4, by Shelley Mayfield in the afternoon. Vic Ghezzi lost in the afternoon, 1-up, to Don Fairfield.

The highlight early-round match belonged to Middlecoff, who rallied to beat week-long roomate Jack Burke Jr., 1-up, in 40 holes. Middlecoff bounced back from a five-hole deficit in the morning round, and birdied the 35th and 36th holes to send the match into extra holes. Middlecoff ended things with a par on the 40th hole.

Chick Harbert, who was a runner-up in 1947 and 1952, avenged those disappointments by defeating defending Champion Walter Burkemo, 4 and 3, at Keller Golf Club in St. Paul, Minn. Burkemo began the match strong, winning three of the first four holes in his bid to become the first repeat PGA Champion since Denny Shute in 1936-37.

However, Harbert played the next 29 holes in 8-under par, surrendering only one hole to Burkemo. Harbert took control of the contest with wedge shots landing within inches at the 19th and 20th holes, to build a 3up lead. Burkemo had opportunities to trim the lead, but could not make a series of critical putts.

To reach the final, Harbert needed to drop a 15-foot birdie putt on the 18th green in his semifinal against Tommy Bolt for a 1-up decision.

The Championship's early-round matches included a first-round 5-and-4 morning victory by Bob Toski over past Champion Jim Turnesa. Burkemo defeated Dave Douglas, 4 and 2, and then Claude Harmon, 2 and 1. Burkemo had beaten both men in 1953 en route to his victory. One of the best matches of the day saw Jack Burke Jr. shoot a 67, before losing 1-down to Dutch Harrison, who turned in a 66. Harrison cruised through the afternoon by beating Johnny Palmer, 4 and 3.

Three-time PGA Champion Sam Snead was toppled, 1-up, by Tommy Bolt, in the premier match of the quarterfinals, needing 39 holes for a decision. In another quarterfinal, Harbert beat Jerry Barber, 1-up. After leading by one at the 27th hole, Harbert took the 29th when Barber made bogey, but gave it back on the next hole. He won the 31st with a par to go 2-up, bogeyed the 33rd hole, yet held on for the victory.

Burkemo halted the bid of Roberto De Vicenzo, the first foreign challenger ever to advance to the quarterfinals, by 5 and 4. With a morning round of 69 to De Vicenzo's 74, Burkemo went to lunch 5-up, which proved to be too big a lead for De Vicenzo to overcome.

In the semifinals, Burkemo moved to the finals for the third time in four years with an overtime 1-up win over Middlecoff. The match was even after the morning round when both players shot 69, but in the afternoon, Burkemo played the front nine in 31 and took a 3-up lead to the back nine. Middlecoff fought back to win the 29th hole with a par, which Burkemo took back with a Middlecoff bogey at the 30th hole. Over the next three holes. Middlecoff made three successive 3s, and was just 1-down going into the 35th hole. Burkemo missed a six-footer at the 35th and at 18 conceded a four-foot birdie to Middlecoff sending the contest into extra holes. Burkemo closed out Middlecoff at the 37th hole, nearly holing his second shot, while Middlecoff missed a six-foot birdie putt.

More than 10,000 people turned out at Birmingham (Mich.)

Country Club, to watch local hero Walter Burkemo post his lone major championship with a 2-and-1 decision over Felice Torza. In the morning round, Burkemo went out in 1-over-par 72, but still held a 1-up lead. Burkemo came out strong in the afternoon with two birdies and a par to increase his lead to 2-up. Torza trimmed the deficit to one hole after the 29th, when Burkemo bogeyed, but gave it back at the 31st hole.

Burkemo made bogeys at the 32nd and 34th to allow Torza get within two holes, but closed the match with a par at the 35th hole.

Golf World nicknamed the first day of play "Black Friday" with the upset defeats of Gene Sarazen to Torza, 2 and 1; Jack Fleck to Wally Ulrich, 3 and 2; Vic Ghezzi by Jimmy Clark, 2 and 1; Ed Oliver falling in overtime to Henry Williams, 1-up, 20 holes; Jack Isaacs downing Chandler Harper, 4 and 3; Lew Worsham losing to Dave Douglas, 1-up, on the 20th hole; Pete Cooper beating 1952 runner-up Chick Harbert, 3 and 2; Broyles Plemmons going to the 22nd hole to beat George Fazio, 1-up; and medalist Johnny Palmer being beaten by Jack Grout, 2 and 1.

In the afternoon, defending PGA Champion Jim Turnesa lost to Torza, 4 and 3; Cary Middlecoff was trounced by Clark, 5 and 4; Fred Haas was nipped by Isaacs, 1-up; and Tommy Bolt was beaten by Jackson Bradley, 1-up. Former Champion Sam Snead was beaten in 19 holes by Dave Douglas in the second round.

Jim Turnesa finally settled a 26-year-old family major championship jinx by beating Chick Harbert on the final green at Big Spring Country Club in Louisville for a 1-up victory. Turnesa was a member of a family with seven golfing brothers. His younger brother, Willie, the only one to remain an amateur, gained attention by winning the U.S. and British Amateurs. But for the other brothers who turned professional, the only tournament success they gained was that of being run-

In 1948 and 1949, Jim finished third in the U.S. Open.

Jim Turnesa won the 34th PGA Championship in dramatic fashion. At the end of the morning round he was 3-down. He shot a 34 on the front side of the afternoon round, then picked up two holes and squared the match for the first time since the seventh hole with a birdie at the 32nd hole. The contest remained square until the final hole, when Harbert hooked his drive under an evergreen tree and made bogey, while Turnesa parred the hole for the victory. It was the eighth and final contest in PGA Championship match-play history to end on the final green. Of those eight, it was only the second time that a match was actually won by the results of the final hole.

In the first day of play, most of the favorites were eliminated, with Sam Snead making an early exit by losing 1-up to Lew Worsham. Snead had a 1-up lead after the 16th hole, but Worsham birdied the 17th to square the match, halved the final hole and then beat Snead on the 19th hole with a birdie. Snead had no excuse for his loss, but a muscle strain under his right arm had been causing him a considerable amount of pain just before the Championship, almost causing him to withdraw.

The semifinals were witnessed by 6,000 people who braved 100-degree heat to see Chick Harbert beat Bob Hamilton, 2 and 1, and Jim Turnesa turn back Ted Kroll, 4 and 2.

Sam Snead put on a brilliant exhibition at rugged Oakmont Country Club, capturing his third and final PGA Championship with a 7-and-6 domination of Walter Burkemo.

Snead won five of the first six holes, starting with an eagle, two birdies and three pars. Though Burkemo trailed by three holes at the lunch break, it was too large of a deficit to overcome. Snead started fast again in the afternoon with birdies on the 19th and 22nd holes, building a 5-hole ad-

From there, Snead downed Lloyd Mangrum, 3 and 2, and defeated Jack Burke Jr., 2 and 1, making him the only player in the quarterfinals to break par.

Burkemo, meanwhile, reached the finals after four 1-up decisions, including a 19-hole duel in the second round to defeat Chick Harbert, a 1-up conquest of Reggie Myles in the quarterfinals and a 37-hole semifinal battle to edge Ellsworth Vines.

Burkemo won the final three holes to defeat Vines. With Vines 2-up with just two holes left, Burkemo birdied the 35th, and won the 36th when Vines missed a seven-footer for par. Burkemo made his par putt from four feet. At the extra hole, Vines was short of the green in two, while Burkemo hit the green and was 30 feet away for eagle. Vines chipped up to within 10 feet, missed his putt and Burkemo twoputted for victory.

Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., defeated Henry Williams Jr., 4 and 3, to win the 32nd PGA Championship at Scioto Country Club in Columbus, Ohio. Despite shooting a 75 in the morning round, Harper was 3-up as Williams shot a 79. Going into the final nine, Williams was still 3-down, and a bogey at the 30th hole all but sealed the contest. Harper won the match on the 33rd hole, to become the second Virginian in a row to win the PGA Championship.

In the semifinals, Williams Jr. beat Henry Picard, 1-up, on the 38th hole in one of the greatest comebacks in the history of the PGA Championship. Williams found himself 6-down with just eight holes left in the match. He won the 29th hole when Picard made a bogey and took the 30th with a birdie. Williams halved the 31st, after missing a five-footer for birdie, but made a 20-footer for birdie at the 32nd to be only 3-down.

Williams won the 33rd with a par and then captured the 34th with another 20footer for birdie. When Picard bogeyed the 35th hole, the match was square. Both players made birdies at the final hole to send the match into overtime. Both made pars at the 37th hole, with Williams having to make a five-footer. At the next hole, Picard three-putted for a bogey, missing one from 20 inches to give the match to Williams. In the other match, Harper surprised all by upsetting Jimmy Demaret, 2 and 1.

In a stunning second-round upset, Sam Snead's hopes of repeating ended after he was defeated by Eddie Burke, 1-up.

Native Virginian Sam Snead won his second PGA Championship, defeating Johnny Palmer, 3 and 2, and delighting a partisan gallery at Hermitage Country Club in Richmond. Snead was 2down after the front side, but he regained the two holes on the back side to finish the round square. Despite losing the 27th hole with a bogey, Snead went to the final nine 2-up. Palmer's chance for a comeback got slimmer when both birdied the 28th hole.

Snead then proceeded to make a birdie at the 31st hole. The match ended three holes later, with Snead claiming a winner's check for $3,500.

In the semifinals, Palmer had another easy day, routing Lloyd Mangrum, 6 and 5. In the match of the day, Snead beat Jim Ferrier, 3 and 2. Ferrier gained the advantage with a morning-round 67 to finish 2up, but Snead started a rally when he holed his second shot from 30 yards for an eagle 2 at the 21st hole. He won three of the next six holes to finish the nine at 1-up. Ferrier squared the match with a birdie at the 28th hole, but gave it back with a bogey on the next hole. Snead then closed out the match with birdies at the 31st and 33rd holes.

After the first day of play, only two of the five former PGA Champions remained — Snead and Ferrier.

Ben Hogan, bidding to win the U.S. Open and the PGA Championship in the same year, used his irons with deadly accuracy in his 7-and-6 victory over Mike Turnesa at Norwood Hills Country Club in St. Louis. Hogan's march to his second PGA Championship included posting a morning-round 66 to go 4-up. Despite a short rally from Turnesa in the afternoon, Hogan won the 28th, 29th and 30th holes to close out the match. For the week, Hogan was 35-under par for the 213 holes he played.

In the semifinals, both matches were close, with Turnesa coming from behind to beat Claude Harmon in overtime, 1-up. In the other contest, Hogan beat Jimmy Demaret, 2 and 1, in a match where both players were 10-under par. The match was even at the 33rd hole, but Demaret took three putts and then lost the next hole, when Hogan made an 18-footer for birdie. Both made pars at the next two holes, which ended the match.

In the opening round, former PGA Champion Bob Hamilton was on the losing end of a 20-hole match, as Zell Eaton won, 1-up.

For the first time since 1937, a final match didn't include Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson or Sam Snead, as Californian Jim Ferrier defeated Chick Harbert, 2 and 1. Ferrier's putting was key, as he took only 52 putts over the course of the 35-hole match, and finished 6-under par. For the Championship, Ferrier was 27under par for the 243 holes he played. The Championship match was square after the morning round, but Ferrier fired a front-nine 32 and went to the final nine 3-up. Even though Harbert got one back with a birdie at the 30th hole, Ferrier's birdie at the next hole put him back at 3-up. Ferrier bogeyed the 34th hole to give one back, but when Harbert was unable to make his birdie at the 34th hole, the match came to an end.

The two semifinal matches turned into big routs as Ferrier beat Art Bell, 10 and 9, and Harbert defeated Vic Ghezzi, 6 and 5.

In the quarterfinals, the Championship favorite, Lew Worsham, was defeated by former Champion, Ghezzi, 3 and 2. Another surprise saw Jim Ferrier beat Lloyd Mangrum, 4 and 3, in a match which Ferrier controlled from the second hole.

In the first day of play, Defending PGA Champion Hogan was ousted by Toney Penna, 3 and 1. In another upset, 45-yearold Gene Sarazen got by former Champion Johnny Revolta, 1-up, and then eliminated Snead, 2 and 1.

Ben Hogan claimed the first of his two PGA Championships as he defeated Ed Oliver, 6 and 4, at Portland (Ore.) Golf Club. In the morning round, Hogan had troubles with his putting and found himself 3-down, but with a 30 on the front nine of the afternoon round he took control of the match, going into the final nine 2-up. Hogan won four of the final five holes, making birdies on three of them, concluding the match on the 32nd hole with a birdie 3. For the day, Hogan was 7-under par, playing the afternoon 14 holes in 8-under par.

In the semifinals, Hogan defeated Jimmy Demaret, 10 and 8, the second biggest margin of victory in PGA Championship history. The other match saw Oliver shoot 9-under par to defeat Harold McSpaden, 6 and 5. The match ended at the 31st hole when McSpaden put his tee shot into the woods after Oliver hit his second shot close. McSpaden conceded the match.

In the quarterfinals, Byron Nelson was eliminated with a bogey at the final hole, as Oliver nipped him, 1-up. This was the last match that Nelson would ever play in the PGA Championship. His record would stand at 37 wins in 45 matches.

Byron Nelson, making his fifth appearance in the finals, defeated

Sam Byrd, who was making just his third PGA Championship appearance, 4 and 3. After the morning 18, Byrd finished the round with four straight birdies and a 2-up lead. Nelson rallied to win the 22nd, 25th and 26th holes and square the match. He went in front with a birdie at the 29th hole. which turned out to be the first of four straight holes that he won, and sealed the victory. Nelson was 2-under for the day and a total of 37-under par for the 204 holes he played in the Championship. Byrd played well in the finals, but over the course of the 197 holes he played in the Championship, he was only 14-under par.

The semifinals turned into routs, as Byrd defeated Clarence Doser, 7 and 6, while Nelson easily beat Claude Harmon, 5 and 4.

In second-round play, Byrd, a former New York Yankee outfielder, stunned former PGA Champion Johnny Revolta, 2 and 1.

In the second round, Nelson had a tough time beating Mike Turnesa, 1-up, in a match that saw Nelson 2-down with just four holes left. Nelson responded to the challenge by making birdies at the 33rd and 34th holes to square the match. He made eagle at the next hole and halved the final hole. It was a heartbreaking loss for Turnesa, who was 7-under par, but Nelson was 10-under par with rounds of 68 and 66.

In the quarterfinals, Nelson defeated past Champion Denny Shute, 3 and 2. The victory put Nelson in the semifinals for the sixth time in a row. The other three matches saw different winners than the predictors envisioned, with Clarence Doser upsetting Ky Laffoon, 2 and 1, and Claude Harmon, who was 4-under for the day, beating Ralph Hutchison, 4 and 3. In the final match, Byrd overpowered Vic Ghezzi, 7 and 6, in a contest that saw Byrd take the lead on the second hole without ever looking back.

The night after Nelson's semifinal victory, he told his wife, Louise, that the pressure of the year was starting to get to him. He was in the midst of his streak of 11 straight wins and had already won seven in a row. Louise revealed years later that Nelson was disappointed that nobody had beaten him.

Bob Hamilton, a longshot, upset the 1940 PGA Champion, Byron

Nelson, 1-up, in the finals. After the morning round, the match was even as both players shot 70. In the afternoon round, Hamilton won the 19th hole with a birdie 3. Nelson would never get the lead again. Hamilton got to 2-up when Nelson bogeved the 29th hole, but Nelson birdied the next hole. Another birdie by Nelson at the 33rd hole squared the match, but Hamilton came back to win the next hole with a birdie. They halved the 35th hole with par and went to the final hole, which was a driveable 300 yards. Nelson's drive landed in heavy grass short of the green, while Hamilton was just short of the green. Nelson pitched to within 10 feet of the hole, while Hamilton almost chipped it in, his ball stopping 20 inches away. Nelson did force Hamilton to earn the Championship by making his birdie putt, which he did.

In the semifinals, Nelson rolled past Charles Congdon, 8 and 7. Nelson shot a 67 in the morning round and led 7-up after 18 holes. In the other match, Hamilton beat George Schneiter, 1-up.

In the quarterfinals, the match of the day had Hamilton upsetting the leading money-winner, Harold McSpaden, 2 and 1. In a remarkable day of golf, Hamilton played more shots from the woods than on the fairways and played the 35 holes in 5under par.

Sam Snead, who was to report to the Navy the day after his match, defeated Corporal Jim Turnesa of the Army, 2 and 1, to win his first major championship. Turnesa toured the course in 70 and jumped out to a 3-up lead after 18 holes. In the afternoon, Turnesa maintained his lead, until a bogey on the 24th cost him a hole. By the end of the front nine, Snead had the match square. Turnesa went on to bogey the the 29th hole to go 1-down, then made another bogey at the 30th hole to go 2-down. The match ended on the 35th hole, when Snead holed a spectacular 60-foot chip shot for a birdie to secure the victory.

In the semifinals, Byron Nelson was forced into overtime and drove it out of bounds on the 37th hole to lose the match to Turnesa. Snead was able to reach the finals with his victory over Jimmy Demaret, 3 and 2.

Early-round play saw only one upset as defending PGA Champion Vic Ghezzi was eliminated by Demaret, 4 and 3, in the opening round.

Vic Ghezzi defeated Byron Nelson, 1-up, in an extra-hole match that had a bizarre finish. Ghezzi was 3-down after the 27th hole, but squared the match by winning the first three holes on the final nine. On the final hole, both Ghezzi and Nelson missed the green with their second shots. Nelson pitched up to within 15 feet, while Ghezzi chipped his ball four feet away. When Nelson missed his putt, Ghezzi had a shot at ending the contest, but missed the match-winning putt. At the 37th hole, Ghezzi had another chance to win the match with a 10-footer for birdie, but missed. On the next hole, both missed the green with their second shots and chipped up to within three feet. They were so close that even the referee couldn't determine who would putt first, so they flipped a coin. Nelson won the toss, but missed his putt. Ghezzi had another chance at victory and was able to sink the

In the semifinals, the match of the day was between Nelson and Gene Sarazen. Lord Byron was able to defeat Sarazen, 2and-1. After the morning round, Sarazen had a 1-up lead as he shot 69, but after the 28th hole, Nelson had the lead for the first time in the match. Going into the 35th hole, Nelson held a 1-up lead. Sarazen ran his birdie putt five feet past, then missed that putt to lose the hole and the match. In the other match, Ghezzi was able to hang on to beat Lloyd Mangrum 1-up, despite shooting a 40.

On the first day of play, numerous upsets saw some of the past champions getting eliminated early, with Paul Runyan losing a tough match on the last hole to Horton Smith, 1-up. Henry Picard was beaten by Phil Greenwaldt, 5 and 4. Jimmy Demaret was eliminated by Jack Nicklaus' future teacher, Jack Grout, 4 and 3, and Dutch Harrison lost to Jim Foulis, 2 and 1. Byron Nelson won his first PGA Championship by edging Sam

Snead, 1-up. Nelson took an early 2-up lead by shooting 71 in the morning round, but Snead fought back in the afternoon round, shooting 68. Snead took a 1-up lead to the 34th hole, but Nelson birdied the hole to remain 2-down. Snead almost ran in a 20footer that would have tied the hole. At the 35th hole, Nelson hit a superb wedge to within two feet, while Snead was six feet away. Snead missed his putt, and Nelson made his to go 1-up. At the final hole, a par-3, Nelson hit another splendid shot, this time with a 3-iron to just 10 feet away. Snead hit his shot just off the green. When Snead missed his shot, Nelson hit his putt to within inches for a tap-in and the victory.

The semifinal matches ended with Nelson beating Ralph Guldahl, 1-up, and Snead rolling over Harold McSpaden, 5 and 4.

In the quarterfinals, the match of the day had Gene Sarazen pitted against Snead, with Snead winning, 1-up. Snead was 3-down after the 28th hole, but won the 29th with a birdie, the 31st with a par and the 33rd with a par. When Snead made a birdie at the 34th hole to take a 1-up lead, it was the first time in the match that he had been up. The 35th and 36th holes were halved with pars.

In an exciting overtime match, Henry Picard won a 1-up decision over Byron Nelson to claim his only PGA Championship. Picard recorded birdies on the 36th and 37th holes to seal the match. Picard led most of the way, until Nelson birdied the 29th hole to square the match. When Nelson birdied the 32nd hole, it was the first time in the match that he was in the lead. It was a dramatic birdie for Nelson, who almost drove the 330-yard green. They halved the 33rd hole with birdies, and on the next hole, Picard saved the match by making a 25-footer for par to prevent him from going 2-down. They halved the 35th hole with pars and then, at the final hole, which was only 300 yards long, both players were just short of the green with their drives. Nelson hit a poor second shot to within 12 feet, and Picard hit his four feet away. Nelson missed his putt, and Picard made his to send the match into overtime. At the 37th hole, Picard hit his drive under a movie truck, while Nelson was down the middle. Nelson hit his shot to five feet. After Picard got relief from the obstruction, he knocked his second shot seven feet away. Picard stepped up and sank the putt. Nelson missed his attempt.

In the semifinals, Nelson rolled over Dutch Harrison, 10 and 9. In the other match, Picard had a tough time with Dick Metz, and the match was settled on the final green, with Picard getting a 1-up victory.

The quarterfinals saw the departure of the defending PGA Champion, as Metz beat Paul Runyan, 2 and 1.

The opening day saw Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen, who between them had won eight of the 22 Championships, lose first-round matches. Tony Manero beat Hagen, 1-up, and Jack Ryan beat Sarazen 1-up.

New York native Paul Runyan defeated Sam Snead, 8 and 7, and win his second PGA Championship. Runyan's short game produced a 67 in the morning, good for a 5-up lead. He made the turn in 35, with a 7-up advantage, then won the 28th hole, closing out the match with a half on the 29th. Runyan was 24-under-par for the 196 holes he played, and in his last 70 holes, only made one bogey.

The semifinals featured one of the best matches in PGA Championship history, with Snead beating Jimmy Hines, 1-up. It took a finish of four consecutive 3s on Snead's part to win, and if the contest had been decided by stroke play, Hines, who was 8-under for the day, would have defeated Snead by one stroke. In the 147 holes of match play, Snead was 21-underpar. In the other match, Paul Runyan was 6-under in 33 holes and easily beat Henry Picard, 4 and 3.

In the third round, Denny Shute's attempt to win his third straight PGA Championship was halted when Jimmy Hines eliminated him, 2-and-1. In other thirdround action, Byron Nelson routed Harry Bassler, 11 and 10, in perhaps the most sensational day of golf in PGA Championship history. He had a 64 in the morning round, in which he won eight of the first nine holes. He went to lunch after winning 12 holes and halving the rest.

Denny Shute won his second consecutive PGA Championship in overtime, as he defeated Harold McSpaden, 1-up after 37 holes. McSpaden jumped out to a 3-up lead after the first five holes. But Shute found his putting stroke, one-putting nine of the next 13 holes, squaring the match after the front side and then turning things around to finish the morning round 3-up. In the early stages of the afternoon round, McSpaden was 2-under-par and won four holes to go to the back side with a 1-up lead. When McSpaden bogeyed the 28th hole, the match was square. When Shute made bogeys at the 31st and 32nd holes, McSpaden was 2-up again. McSpaden bunkered his tee shot on the 34th hole, wasn't able to get it up and down for par and was only 1-up. On the 35th hole, McSpaden badly pulled his second shot under a tree and lost the hole to Shute's bogey. Going into the last hole, the match was square again when McSpaden's tee shot hit a spectator, bouncing into the fairway. McSpaden then hit a great second shot to within four feet of the hole. Shute hit his first putt about three feet short of the hole, giving McSpaden a chance to win the match. McSpaden could not capitalize and missed his putt as well. Shute made his putt to send the match into overtime. On the first playoff hole McSpaden missed a 10-footer for par, and Shute made his four-footer to

The semifinals were billed as the "Battle of Champions," as Shute faced Tony Manero, U.S. Open winner. Shute won the 33rd and 34th holes to win the match, 3 and 2. In the other semifinal match, McSpaden defeated Ky Laffoon, 2 and 1.

On the first day of play, five former PGA Champions went down in defeat, with the only survivors being the defender, Denny Shute, and Paul Runyan.

Denny Shute played David to Jimmy Thomson's Goliath. Outdriven

by as much as 60 yards on many holes, Shute used his irons and putter to turn back Thomson, 3 and 2. In the morning round, Thomson shot 77 to Shute's 74, but Shute could only muster a 1-up lead. During the afternoon round, Shute started to pull away with a 30foot birdie putt at the 29th hole. Despite a 2-up lead, Shute struggled with every aspect of his game, except his putting. On the 31st hole, Shute hit a poor drive in the waste area and scuffed his next shot short of the green. Thomson hit his second shot on the green, while Shute pitched up 20 feet away. After Thomson safely secured his par, Shute made his putt for a half. The next two holes were halved with pars, and Shute closed out the match on the 34th hole, when he hit a spectacular second shot just three feet away on the par-5. When Thomson missed his birdie putt, Shute knocked his putt in for eagle, a 3-and-2 victory and the PGA Championship.

Notable players who didn't make it to match play were Walter Hagen, Leo Diegel, Sam Parks Jr., Byron Nelson and Jim Turnesa. During first-day play, all former PGA Champions in the field were eliminated as Gene Sarazen, Tommy Armour and Paul Runyan lost their matches. Meanwhile, defending PGA Champion Johnny Revolta was defeated in the second round.

Weather played a key role in the finals, with frigid northern blasts numbing both 40-year old legend Tommy Armour and upstart 24-year-old Johnny Revolta. Despite being 16 years older and having won every major tournament a professional could win, Armour couldn't secure his second PGA Championship. Revolta started off with a birdie on the first hole, and Armour was never able to square the match again. After a front-nine 33, Revolta jumped to a 3-up advantage. And even though he was 2-over-par on the back nine, he was able to pick up another hole, going to lunch 4-up. Armour's game improved in the afternoon. He won the first hole with a par, but it would take 12 holes to win another. Despite playing the first seven afternoon holes at even par, he lost one more hole. Armour bogeyed the eighth hole, and when they went to the back side, Revolta was 6-up. Armour matched par on the first three holes of the back nine and won the 31st hole, when Revolta made bogey. When Revolta put his tee shot on the par-3, 32nd hole just 10 feet away, Armour knew the match was over. If there was a secret to Revolta's 5-and-4 win, it had to be his putting. Over the course of the 31-hole match, Revolta didn't have a three-putt and one-putted 13 greens.

During the first round, medalist and five-time PGA Champion Walter Hagen lost to Revolta, 1-up, in a nailbiter. At No. 18, Hagen had a chance to tie after Revolta made bogey, but Hagen missed his par putt. In the second round, three-time PGA Champion Gene Sarazen was upset by Alvin Krueger, 2 and 1. Sarazen was 2down on No. 17, and laid down what many thought was a perfect stymie. Krueger took out his wedge and pitched his ball over Sarazen's into the cup for a half and the match.

Not since 1923 had a PGA Championship final been so close and gone so long, when Paul Runyan, the pupil and putting wizard, beat his former instructor, Craig Wood, 1-up. In the morning round, Wood had a 1-up lead, but lost his advantage on the front side of the afternoon round. Wood earned his lead back at the 29th hole with an eagle 3, but Runyan squared the match three holes later with a birdie. Runyan picked up a hole with a Wood bogey at the 33rd hole. At the 35th hole, Wood almost holed his second shot, making birdie to climb to all square going into the last hole. Both players missed the final green with their second shots and chipped within 12 feet.

PGA President George Jacobus had to decide who would putt first, and with considerable care, he determined that Runyan was away. Runyan made his putt. Even though Wood had a tougher putt, his stroke was true as well, forcing overtime. At the 37th hole, Runyan was short of the green in two, while Wood was just eight feet away for eagle. Runyan hit a great chip within two feet and was able to halve the hole when Wood missed his match-winning putt. At the next hole, Wood hooked his drive under a tree and sent his second shot into the crowd. Runyan didn't do much better, as he pushed his second shot right of the green. He then had a tough shot over a bunker, which he played well, as the ball stopped eight feet away.

Wood chipped 12 feet short of the cup and just missed his par putt. Runyan then took his aluminum-headed putter and made the winning putt.

Several prominent names went down in the first round including: Former PGA Champions Walter Hagen and Leo Diegel; and former U.S. Open Champions Billy Burke and Johnny Farrell. In the second round, defending PGA Champion Gene Sarazen was eliminated by Al Watrous, 4 and 3.

Gene Sarazen had a lot to prove. Earlier that week, Tommy Armour proclaimed that Sarazen was "all washed up as a championship contender." The remark lit a spark in Sarazen, who spent the whole week routing his competitors. Yet, after the morning round in the finals against Willie Goggin, Sarazen was only 1-up despite a 1-under-par 69. So, "The Squire" went to work in the afternoon, winning three of the first five holes, shooting 34, and going into the final nine 4-up. With a birdie on the 32nd hole, Sarazen closed out the match, 5 and 4. As he was receiving his prize of $1,000 and the Wanamaker Trophy for the third time, he told the audience, "Pretty good for a washed-up golfer."

Walter Hagen, Craig Wood and Denny Shute decided to not enter the event. In the first round, all favorites advanced with the exception of two-time PGA Champion Leo Diegel, who was eliminated by Goggin, 4 and 3; and Horton Smith, who was beaten by longshot Clarence Clark, 6 and 5.

In the finals, Olin Dutra par, which he showcased throughout the PGA Championship, to beat Frank Walsh, 4 and 3. For Walsh, it was a valiant try that seemed impossible just seven months prior, as he had suffered a fractured skull and was sidelined for eight weeks. As for Dutra, his performance was remembered as one of the most dominant victories in PGA Championship history. Over the course of the six days of the Championship, Dutra played 196 holes and was 19-under-par.

The first round was full of overtime surprises, as several of the favorites were eliminated. In a stunning defeat that went seven extra holes (the second-longest match in the PGA Championship), fivetime PGA Champion Walter Hagen lost to Johnny Golden, who rolled in a 10-footer for birdie on the 43rd hole. Other upsets that went extra holes had Reggie Myles beating Horton Smith and Vincent Eldred staggering past Paul Runyan. But the most amazing match was between Bobby Cruickshank and Al Watrous, as Watrous relinquished a 9-up lead, then lost in overtime on the 41st hole.

Playing in his first PGA Championship, Tom Creavy was able to hold on to beat Denny Shute, 2 and 1. After the 30th hole, it appeared that Creavy was going to win in a rout. Afterall, Creavy was 4-up, with just six holes left. However, Shute fought back. On the 31st hole, Creavy made bogey, while Shute made par to get one back. Despite Shute hitting his drive into a water hazard at the 32nd hole, they still halved the hole. At the 33rd hole, Shute made a birdie to get another one back. When Creavy made a double-bogey at the 34th hole, it looked like he was folding. But that was as far as Shute was able to go, as he made bogey at the 35th hole to lose, 2 and 1. Creavy got a great thrill afterwards when his hero Bobby Jones, who was refereeing the match said, "It was one of the finest matches I think that was ever played."

In the quarterfinals, Tommy Armour's reign as PGA Champion came to an end at the hands of Shute, 3 and 1. The first round saw a number of upsets, with Walter Hagen, Leo Diegel, Johnny Farrell, Ed Dudley and Al Espinosa becoming firstround casualties. Hagen's loss was the biggest surprise, as veteran Peter O'Hara eliminated the five-time PGA Champion, 4 and 3.

The final was something out of a Hollywood script, with two great golfers battling to their final putts to determine the PGA Champion. Even though Gene Sarazen was the favorite over Tommy Armour, especially with Sarazen playing on his home course, it was one of those matches where neither player had the upper hand. The biggest lead was just two holes, which both players had at one time during the contest.

Following the morning round, Armour had a 1-up lead, after shooting 71 to Sarazen's 72. On the front nine of the afternoon round, Sarazen got the hole back, and they went to the final nine all-square. On the 18th hole, Sarazen hooked his tee shot, while Armour hit the fairway. Sarazen put his second shot into a greenside bunker. Then Armour, who had a poor lie, hit his second shot into the bunker. Sarazen put his bunker shot 10 feet past the hole, while Armour exploded 12 feet away. As Armour got over his putt, he was forced to back away after a photographer disturbed him. When he finally hit the ball, it had just enough momentum to topple in to win. Sarazen, who looked surprised that Armour made it, putted hurriedly and missed.

Notable players who did not make the field in sectional qualifying included past PGA Champions Walter Hagen, Jock Hutchison and Jim Barnes. Meanwhile, the second round saw Leo Diegel end his twoyear reign as PGA Champion, losing to Harold Sampson, 1-up.

Leo Diegel won his second consecutive PGA Championship, after once again ousting rival Walter Hagen, in the semifinals, 3 and 2. He then topped Johnny Farrell in the finals, 6 and 4. At one point, Diegel won four straight holes from Farrell, only to lose the next three. Farrell won the 18th hole to finish the morning round 1-up. Diegel started the afternoon round on the right foot by winning the 19th hole to square the match. On several of the next eight holes, he frustated Farrell with some well-placed stymies.

This came to a head on the 27th green when Diegel, who was 1-up at the time, missed a short putt. However, his ball stopped in a position that partly covered the cup and blocked Farrell's five-foot putt. Farrell tried to negotiate around Diegel's ball, but he failed and knocked Diegel's ball into the cup to lose the hole. The same thing happened on the next green. Instead of being all square or 1-down through safer play, Farrell found himself 3-down. At the next hole, Farrell again had a three-footer for a win. Yet, even though Diegel's ball wasn't in his way, Farrell still missed the putt. Diegel then parred the rest of the holes to seal the PGA Championship.

In a stunning upset, five-time PGA Champion Walter Hagen lost to rival Leo Diegel in the quarterfinals, 2 and 1, snapping "The Haig's" consecutive PGA Championship match-play winning streak at 22. Diegel then handlily beat Gene Sarazen, 9 and 8 in the semifinals; and Al Espinosa in the finals, 6 and 5, as Espinosa's putting touch deserted him. Espinosa got off to a good start when he won the second hole, but he then had a three putt on the next

After Espinosa won the sixth hole, Diegel made up ground with two birdies in a row. He played brilliantly on the back nine, as he ended the morning round 4-up. Espinosa hung on during the front nine of the afternoon round, but was unable to cut down Diegel's lead. After consecutive three-putts on the 29th and 30th holes, the match ended one hole later.

While Diegel had finally won a PGA Championship, he did not receive the Wanamaker Trophy for his efforts, as Hagen shockingly announced that the trophy was lost in a Chicago taxicab a few years prior. In 1930, fortunately, a porter in Detroit eventually found the trophy unscathed in the basement of the manufacturer of Hagen's line of golf clubs.

Walter Hagen won a record fifth PGA Championship with a dramatic

1-up win over Joe Turnesa in the finals, as Turnesa left a putt short on the lip on the final hole that would have forced overtime. Turnesa got off to a good start when he shot a 71 in the morning round to Hagen's 77. Despite the six-shot difference, Turnesa went to lunch with only a 2-up lead. Turnesa added another hole at the 19th, but then the tide started to turn, as five-footers that were no problem in his earlier matches became a struggle. On the last six holes, Turnesa nervously missed short and easy putts. On the 29th hole, Hagen made a birdie to square the match, and with a Turnesa bogey at the 31st hole, Hagen took a 1-up lead.

In the second round, Hagen played spotlessly as he routed Tony Manero, 11 and 10. Tommy Armour also played great golf in his 7-and-6 victory over Tom Harmon, which set up a quarterfinal match between the defending U.S. Open winner and PGA Champion. For the second round, large galleries appeared, with most of them watching the match between local hero Harry Cooper and Al Espinosa. However, his popularity didn't help a poor putting day as the "home boy" was eliminated, 5 and 4. The match of the day was played between Joe Turnesa and Willie Klein. After the first eight holes of play Klein was 6-up, and it took a furious rally by Turnesa to square the match by the 35th hole. Then with a 20-foot putt on the final green, Turnesa was able to win the match, 1-up.

In the quarterfinals, Hagen found a hot putter, but still had a hard-fought match against Armour in his 4-and-3 win. Espinosa beat Mortie Dutra, 1-up, but again the score was misleading. With three holes left to play in the morning round, Espinosa was 6-up, but Dutra won the last three holes, and in the afternoon round, took the first four holes. Espinosa was able to turn things around and led the match by one after the 27th hole. He was able to hold on by that margin. The match between Sarazen and Joe Turnesa matched two Americans of Italian descent, with Turnesa handing Sarazen a 3-and-2 defeat.

Of the two semifinal matches, Turnesa had an easy time of John Golden, who was mired in a putting slump. Turnesa had a 9-up lead after the morning round, and it was just a matter of time before he won the match, 7 and 6. In the other match, between Espinosa and Hagen, it looked as if the defending PGA Champion was going to be beaten. Espinosa won the 35th hole to go 1-up. On the second shot to the final green, Espinosa was 25 feet away, with Hagen over the green. It seemed certain that Hagen was going to lose, because he didn't have any chance to make the birdie he needed. He hit a great chip shot and was conceded his 4. Espinosa had two putts for the victory. He looked very uncomfortable over the situation and left his approach putt a yard short. He then missed the matchwinning putt. The match went into extra holes and, on the first hole, Espinosa again repeated his three-putt, and Hagen won the match.

Walter Hagen earned his fourth PGA Championship in six years with a 5-and-3 victory in the final over Leo Diegel, who was noticeably suffering from an attack of nerves. This was clearly illustrated when Diegel had problems on the first hole in the afternoon round, as he overshot the green, and his ball stopped on a road underneath a car. When the owner moved the vehicle, Diegel's ball was in a deep rut. It took him three swipes to get it on the green, and he lost the hole to go 3down. Diegel won the next hole, and after 27 holes was still 2-down. But Hagen won the 28th and 31st and was 4-up. It was only a matter of time, as Diegel produced a 6 on the 33rd hole to give Hagen his fourth PGA Championship.

One first-round match of note paired former PGA Champions Gene Sarazen and Jim Barnes. Sarazen was 1-up during the afternoon round, when he breezed along to make the turn in 32, and eventually won, 5 and 4.

Walter Hagen eagled the first hole of his final match against Bill

Mehlhorn at Olympia Fields Country Club in Olympia Fields, Ill., and went on to a 6-and-5 victory, earning his second consecutive PGA Championship.

In the opening 18 holes of the Championship match, both players went out in 33, with Hagen clinging to a 1-up lead. Hagen remained sizzling on the back side, where he matched par on every hole except for a birdie at the 13th to post a 67. Despite equalling par on the round, Mehlhorn found himself 4-down.

In the afternoon round, Hagen went out in 33 and picked up another hole on Mehlhorn, who had a 1-under-par 34. By then it was only a matter of time, as Hagen won two more holes and closed out the match on the 31st hole, 6 and 5.

The biggest suprise of the first round was the defeat of two-time PGA Champion Gene Sarazen, who went down in an 8-and-7 drubbing at the hands of Jack Burke Sr. At the same time, Hagen needed 39 holes to oust low qualifier Al Watrous. Throughout the morning round Hagen trailed, but neither player was able to gather an advantage of more than one hole. Hagen came to the final hole in the afternoon dormie one, but lost the hole to send the match into overtime. Hagen won the 39th hole.

Hagen's match-play magic continued in the quarterfinals against Leo Diegel. Hagen got off to a poor start, taking five holes before he finally made a par. After the front nine, Diegel stood 4-up and finished the round 5-up. Hagen trimmed the deficit to 2-down after the 27th hole, but both players halved the next five holes. Hagen got another hole back and sent the match into overtime by winning the 36th hole. On the fourth extra hole, Hagen won to advance to the semifinals.

Walter Hagen began the most remarkable four-year win streak in major championship history, capturing his second overall PGA Championship at French Lick Springs in French Lick, Ind.

In the semifinal, Hagen rolled past Ray Derr, 8 and 7, while two-time Champion Jim Barnes struggled to defeat Larry Nabholtz, 1-up. Barnes was 1-down after the morning round and didn't gain any of it back with two holes left to play. Thanks to a 3 at the 35th hole, he squared the match, and eventually Nabholtz's inexperience in major competition cost him the match. The 24-year-old's second shot to the home hole was over the green. Instead of putting the ball down the slope, he used a niblick and skidded his ball way past the hole. He twoputted for bogey and Barnes made a routine

Barnes' attempt to avenge a loss to Hagen in the finals of the 1921 Championship went awry due to a faulty putter. Barnes suffered four three-putt greens in the morning round, and each one cost him a hole, falling 4-down. In the afternoon, Barnes fought back with a front nine of 34 and, with a birdie on the 29th hole, trimmed Hagen's lead to 1-up. The players traded wins at the 30th and 31st holes, but when Hagen won the 34th hole, Barnes was dormie two. On the 35th hole, Hagen took three putts, his second one missing from three feet. Going to the finishing hole, Barnes needed a win to send the match into overtime, but a bad drive followed by a shanked mashie niblick handed the match to Hagen, 2-up.

The biggest upset of the early rounds involved Gene Sarazen, who came into French Lick Springs undefeated in two previous Championships. But, he was upset, 2 and 1, in the second round by Nabholtz.

Gene Sarazen captured his second consecutive PGA Championship with five superior early-round performances before facing legendary Walter Hagen in one of the classic final matches of the era. To get there, Sarazen edged two-time Champion Jim Barnes, 1-up, thanks to a birdie on the final hole of their quarterfinal battle. In the semifinal, Sarazen rolled past Bobby Cruickshank, 6 and 5.

Hagen was a study in match-play domination, never allowing an opponent to reach the 17th hole, and powering past George McLean, 12 and 11, in the most lopsided semifinal in Championship history.

Sarazen went on to successfully defend his title by defeating Hagen in the first extra-hole final in PGA Championship history. But it took one of Hagen's patented charges to send the match to extra holes. Both players stood all square after the morning round, and Sarazen built a 3-hole lead after the front nine of the afternoon round.

Hagen rallied by making birdie at the 29th hole, and squared the match by winning the 34th and 35th holes. The final hole was halved, sending the match into extra holes. The first hole was halved, but the match almost ended on the tee shots at the second hole when Sarazen hit into heavy rough, just a couple of feet away from an out-of-bounds fence. With a crowd gathered around him, Sarazen was heard by a few spectators to say, "I'll put this one up so close to the hole that it will break Walter's heart," which he did. It was one of the most magnificent shots ever made in championship golf, dropping short of the pin and coming to rest two feet away from a certain birdie. Hagen followed by chipping poorly into a greenside bunker. His last gasp effort to tie Sarazen resulted in his bunker approach coming within inches of the hole.

Former PGA Champion Jock Hutchison was given a chance to avenge his loss in the 1921 PGA Championship, when he met reigning U.S. Open Champion Gene Sarazen in the quarterfinals. The match went to the 35th hole, with Sarazen winning, 3 and 1, after trailing Hutchison through the morning half and the

In the semifinals, Sarazen met Bobby Cruickshank, but Sarazen came out on top with a 3-and-2 victory. In the other match, Emmett French disposed of John Golden, 8 and 7.

The first 18 in the final was a tight match, with Sarazen and French all square before a lunch break. After 26 holes the match was still even, before Sarazen went on to claim the 27th, 28th and 29th holes. Both players halved the 30th but Sarazen won the 31st. With halves at the 32nd and 33rd holes, Sarazen closed the match, 4 and 3. The 20-year-old, who had changed his name from Eugenio Saraceni, had reached a new milestone in golf as he became the first player to hold the U.S. Open and PGA Championship titles at the same time.

The early surprise of the Championship was that Walter Hagen would not defend his title due to exhibition engagements. Two-time Champion Jim Barnes fell to Johnny Farrell, 1-up, in the second round. Farrell then was eliminated by his former mentor, Tom Kerrigan, 4 and 3.

The field for match play was 64 players who qualified in local districts. All first matches were played at 18 holes with the rest of the matches played at 36 holes.

Two-time U.S. Open Champion Walter Hagen began his remarkable

PGA Championship legacy with four impressive match victories before facing two-time PGA Champion Jim Barnes in the finale at Inwood Country Club in Far Rockaway, N.Y. To get there, both players survived semifinal duels contested in miserable weather conditions. A terrific rainstorm put a halt to the Emmett French-Barnes match, with Barnes leading 2-up. The next morning they finished off the remaining 12 holes of the match, with Barnes winning, 5 and 3. In the other semifinal, Hagen offered to postpone their match, but Cyril Walker refused, and they went on to the bitter end with Hagen winning, 5 and 4.

The final brought together Barnes and Hagen, each playing at the peak of their ability. Hagen went out in 69 in the morning round for a 1-up lead. In the afternoon, Hagen continued his brilliant all-around game and putted spectacularly with a front nine 4-under 33 to build a 4-up advantage. Hagen closed the match at the 34th hole, winning the match, 3 and 2.

The surprise in the early rounds was a second-round exit by defending PGA Champion and newly-crowned British Open winner Jock Hutchison, who was outplayed by a 19-year-old youngster, Gene Sarazen. A former caddie, Sarazen had Hutchison 8-down after the first 18 holes, thanks in part to a brilliant 69 and went on to win, 8 and 6. Walker halted Sarazen's bid in the quarterfinals, 5 and 4. The field for match play was selected on a basis of the best 31 finishers in the U.S. Open, with defending PGA Champion Jock Hutchison filling the 32nd berth.

ing Douglas Edgar in the final.

Jock Hutchison, runner-up in the inaugural PGA Championship, nearly failed to get a berth in 1920, he had not received a break prior to the first round. George Fotheringham and Arthur Clarkson were unable to attend, allowing Hutchison into the field. He responded in typical form, cruising through four matches before fac-

Hutchison set up the final match by posting a 4-and-3 semifinal win over Harry Hampton. Had it not been for a brilliant start and a couple of stymies, the match probably would have gone to the final hole. In the other semifinal, Edgar routed George McLean, 8 and 6.

Edgar opened the final match with a two-hole advantage, but Hutchison rallied to go 1-up after the morning round, thanks to Edgar missing a three-footer at 16 and an 18-inch putt on the 17th hole. Hutchison then built a 3-up lead after nine holes in the afternoon.

He increased his lead with a win at the 28th hole, but Edgar won the 29th. Both players halved the next two holes and, with five holes left to play, Hutchison stood 3up. Hutchison then suffered driving problems the next two holes and lost both of them. He was 1-up with three holes to play and again hit a bad tee shot into the rough, but made a wonderful shot to the green to earn a par-4. Edgar reached the green in regulation, only to three-putt, missing a five-footer. Owning a 2-up advantage on the 17th tee, Hutchison would lose the hole on a stymie. Edgar and Hutchison halved the 18th with fives, when Edgar hit his approach into a bunker and could not get up and down.

The Championship featured a secondround upset of two-time defending Champion Jim Barnes, who saw an 11-match win streak snapped, 5 and 4, by Clarence Hackney.

The PGA Championship resumed after a two-year break due to World War I, and the finale at Engineers Country Club in Roslyn, N.Y., was similar to 1916, with an Englishman and a Scot in the showcase twosome. Fred McLeod, at 5-foot-3, the smallest man in the field, faced the tallest in defending PGA Champion Jim Barnes, a lanky 6-3. After the front nine, McLeod enjoyed a 1-up lead. He won the 10th hole but, at the 11th, his approach to the green was a bit strong. He followed by missing a 11/2-foot putt. That unnerved McLeod, who went on to lose six of the remaining seven holes to end the first 18 holes 5-down. In the afternoon, McLeod could not make a putt and Barnes proved his skill, holing a 40-foot birdie putt on the

The second round featured a couple of upsets when George McLean beat Mike Brady, 6 and 5, and Jimmy West defeated Wilfred Reid, 2 and 1. It also had the battle of two giants, Otto Hackbarth and Jim Barnes, the two tallest players in the Championship. Barnes won the match on the 34th green, 3 and 2, after superior putting. Jock Hutchison, runner-up in 1916, fell to Bob McDonald in the quarterfinals, 3 and 2. In the rest of the matches, Barnes defeated Emmet French, 3 and 2, McLean routed James West, 9 and 7; and McLeod, the 1908 U.S. Open winner from Carnoustie, Scotland, enjoyed an 8-and-6 victory over Douglas Edgar.

31st hole for a 6-and-5 victory.

1917–18 No Championships Played Due To World War I

Three British-born golfers and one American reached the semifinals of the inaugural PGA Championship at Siwanoy Country Club in Bronxville, N.Y. America's hopes rested upon Walter Hagen, one of the founders of The PGA of America, who battled St. Andrews native Jock Hutchison in one match, while Jim Barnes, a native of Cornwall, England, met Willie MacFarlane, formerly of Aberdeen, Scotland.

Hagen built a 1-up lead after 27 holes on Hutchison, but lost the 12th and 13th holes. The next four holes were halved and, with Hagen hitting his second shot into a brook short of the green, Hutchison won the match, 2-up. Meanwhile, Barnes had no difficulty in outplaying MacFarlane, 6 and 5.

In the final match, Hutchison jumped out to a three-hole lead, shooting 37 to Barnes' 39. On the back side, Barnes reduced the lead to one, with both players scoring 77 in the first 18 holes. After a break, the match resumed with Barnes telling the crowd before his drive on the first hole, "I always do better after lunch." Barnes squared the match at the 21st hole and took the lead for the first time at the 25th hole with an 18-foot putt.

The 27th hole was halved in birdie 3s, with Barnes making a 35-foot putt. Barnes made another long (25 feet) curling putt on the next hole to go 2-up. Hutchison rallied with a 15-foot birdie at the next hole, won the 31st and took a 1-up lead at the 33rd hole. The 34th hole was halved in fours, but Hutchison missed a five-footer on the next hole to square the match. On the final green, both players had five-footers for fours and, after a measurement, it was decided that Hutchison was out. Hutchison missed the putt and Barnes made his, winning 1-up. "Big Jim" won $500 and a diamond medal. Hutchison received a gold medal and $250.

Siwanoy Head Professional Thomas Kerrigan has the distinction of being the first player to hit a shot in the PGA Championship, en route to a 6-and-4 victory over Charles Adams.
